—Mercury Staff Photo

Telephone operator Thea Mae Phillips can't control the smile as she's handed a $50 bill in exchange for a Lucky Buck. Engaged to an Army corporal stationed in Germany, she said the money will go towards her trousseau. She was only one of 54 shoppers who picked off $228 in prizes yesterday. But there's nearly $1000 in cash still waiting in 84 Pottstown stores—with the luckiest buck of them all worth $100.

There's $1000 More

Sharp Shoppers Spot 54 'Bucks'

Fifty-four shoppers cashed Lucky Bucks yesterday as the biggest pile of green—$1200 worth—waited for lucky persons in Pottstown stores.

Thea Mae Phillips, 39 East Main street, South Pottstown, who's planning on getting married soon, came up with the biggest find of the day—a Lucky Buck worth $50.

And 53 other shoppers cashed in "bucks" worth from $2 to $25.

But the bulk of the money—and magic bills—is still out in the 84 participating stores.

Yesterday, the 54 Lucky Bucks totaled $228 in cash. That means there's nearly $1000 still to be had.

Added Feature

Ten Lucky Bucks were placed in general circulation in Pottstown yesterday. One is worth at least $25!

The ten, as an added drawing card, were spent in Pottstown stores. None of the merchants knew their numbers, but they're included in today's list.

So shoppers may get them anywhere.

Be sure to examine your dollar bills. They may be lucky!

And, of course—the big $100 Lucky Buck is still out.

YOU'LL HAVE all day to cash them in at The Mercury office. Deadline is 5 p. m.

Miss Phillips, an operator at the Bell Telephone company, found her Lucky Buck when she bought bobbins worth 60 cents at the Singer.

URW - FIRESTONE WAGE TALKS TO BEGIN TUESDAY

Results to Affect 2000 at Local Plant

Wage negotiations between the Firestone Tire and Rubber company and the United Rubber Workers (U. R. W.), negotiations which will affect 2000 Firestone workers in Pottstown, will begin in Cleveland, Ohio, on Tuesday.

Robert E. Garber, president of Pottstown Firestone Local 336 U. R. W.-CIO, and a member of the international union's executive board, will represent local workers around the negotiating table.

Dwight B. Eib, director of industrial relations at the Pottstown plant, will represent management at the Cleveland sessions.

The Firestone contract expires at midnight, August 31.

FIRESTONE is the first of the tire industry's big four to begin wage negotiations with the U. R. W. The other members of the industry, Goodyear, U. S. Rubber and Goodrich, will follow Firestone to the negotiating table.

This past Summer, Goodyear began the round of negotiations with the union.

The executive board of Local 336 will meet tomorrow to decide whether the local will be represented by more than one representative.

If a second union delegate is sent to Cleveland, it will be Jerry E. Rutter, a member of the Local 336 policy committee.

Firestone this past year signed a two-year contract with a wage-reopening feature this year.

The Cleveland negotiators will consider only wages. The remainder of the contract will stand until October 1956.

Ambulance Driver Delivers 2d Baby

The stork paid a visit to Spring City yesterday morning and arrived just ahead of a Friendship Community ambulance crew of Royersford.

For the second time in less than three months, Paul Iselt, the driver, delivered a healthy baby. He was assisted by Charles Edelman Jr.

Mother of the child is Mrs. Ralph Yeager, second floor, 64 North Main street, Spring City, who was alone at the time when help was needed. Her husband

Burgess' Son in Group

Youths Face Charges On Breaking-In Today

Five teen-agers who allegedly broke into a North End home July 10—one was the son of Burgess John B. Hartenstine—will be given a hearing today at 9 a. m. at Montgomery Hall, West Norriton township near Jeffersonville.

Peter J. Frascino, Montgomery County Probation officer, said last night he had notified the boys and their parents to be on hand for the hearing.

The boys are alleged to have been caught inside the home of Mrs. Daisy DeHaven at 903 Hale street by her son, Irvin R. DeHaven, 39, Pottstown RD 2.

DeHaven at the time claimed that the boys damaged furniture and threw lighted cigarettes on rugs.

The house had not been lived in for more than a year, although it was completely furnished.

THE BOYS were identified as: John B. Hartenstine 3d, son of Burgess and Mrs. John B. Hartenstine Jr.; David Leh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood R. Leh, 243 Prospect street; Charles Erb, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Raymond Erb, 941 Feist avenue; George Stranick, son of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Stranick, 866 North Evans street; and Joseph Wolf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene L. Wolf, 261 Lee avenue.

Police Chief James Laughhead said that he turned the case over to Frascino.

The Chief's move was consistent with a policy he has developed of sending all cases to the county probation officer, regardless of the seriousness of the case.

Coins Found Buried With Owner in 1864

A certain 19th Century Pottstown gentleman apparently believed that even in death it's a good thing to have some change in your pocket.

George S. Bechtel, who died Nov. 2, 1864, was buried with three coins in the pocket of his suit.

The coins were discovered when Bechtel's grave was opened recently in the grave-moving operation at Emmanuel Lutheran cemetery.

One coin is a one-cent piece, larger than ours today, and the other two coins are too dirty to be recognizable, according to F. Leon Huber, superintendent of Highland Memorial park, who is directing the grave removal.

Huber conjectures that the coins apparently were left in Bechtel's pants' pocket when he was prepared for burial.

"IT COULDN'T have been a custom in those times to bury someone with money," he said. "For those were the only coins we have found."

The diggers did find a ring in another grave, that of Catharine Bechtel, who was buried in the same row as George Bechtel. Born Aug. 9, 1799, she died Sept. 5, 1859.

Huber described it as a silver band ring with an inscription on the inside that he couldn't

LIFEGUARDS TOP LIST BY HEALTH UNIT

Bathers to Be Allowed When Conditions Are Met

The State Department of Health notified Montgomery County commissioners yesterday that with a few minor changes the Upper Perkiomen park at Green Lane can be opened for swimming again.

Chief requirement will be the hiring of life guards, Carl Mason, spokesman for the Health department, said.

The commissioners should receive the Health department's communicate this morning.

Mason said the commissioners have only to sign the enclosed permit and mail it to the Philadelphia office of the State Health department.

BY SIGNING and mailing the notice, the commissioners are automatically given permission to operate the park as an authorized public swimming area.

The commissioners were unavailable for comment last night. Fred C. Peters was in the Pottstown; Foster C. Hillegass was away from his home. Raymond K. Mensch has been away from his

The health center will be conducted in the auditorium of the Penn Village administration "three or four times a month."

The State will provide the services of Dr. James I. Wendell Jr. and a State nurse.

"There will be a clinic for pre-school children, and services such as pre-natal care, a well-baby

Ruse Shows Who's Honest

If That's Brotherhood, We'll Stay in Pottstown

By ROBERT E. HOVER (Mercury Staff Writer)

They can say what they want to about Pottstown, but they can't contest the honesty of its people.

I've known for a long time that Pottstonians are more honest than Parisians, Persians, Russians and South Africans.

Now, I have definite proof that Pottstonians are more honest than Philadelphians.

It's with sincere regret that I'm forced to divulge the dishonesty of Philadelphians, but the untarnished truth must stand.

I'VE ALWAYS had a suspicion that Pottstonians are more honest than Philadelphians, but being an open-minded, scientific fellow, I decided to conduct an experiment

Relief Due Sunday

Heat Blamed In Death of Stowe Man

A 75-year-old Stowe man died from a "heat induced heart attack" yesterday afternoon a few hours before the weatherman predicted relief from the torrid wave that has blistered the area.

James Edwards, 75, a former employe at Stanley G. Flagg and company, was found dead in bed in his home at 8 Grosstown road.

Coroner Dr. John C. Simpson released the body to the Fleischmann Funeral home. He said the man died of a heart attack "probably brought about by the heat."

The heat victim had been suffering from a weak heart the past several years. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

The temperature soared again yesterday, climbing to the 95 mark by 5 p. m. The all-time record for the day is 99.

But the weatherman said it would be "cooler Sunday and Monday" with a possibility of thunder showers.

YESTERDAY'S 90 plus heat marked the 20th day since July 1 that the Mercury has touched or topped 90.

It will be torrid again today, but the weatherman offers some hope for relief late tomorrow and Monday.

Although the pumps at the Bramcote pumping station have been working continuously, there will be no water ban over the weekend.

and let the results decide this debated question.

There are those who will scoff at my findings, but let them have their disapproval. I've never had much time anyway for these illogical birds who are incapable of anything but criticism. I call them demented skeptics.

Getting back to the experiment: I intentionally lost six letters in Philadelphia and photographed the results. I observed a similar operation in Pottstown where letters were coyly dropped by Louise Romania, of 238 North Charlotte street.

The six letters tossed on Philadelphia streets were identical to the six letters used in the Pottstown end of the experiment.

I'VE ALWAYS had a suspicion that Pottstonians are more honest than Philadelphians, but being an open-minded, scientific fellow, I decided to conduct an experiment mailed to the Citizens National Bank and Trust company, 401 High street, and the Robert H. DeLong Real Estate Agency, Security Trust building.

Single letters were mailed to Miss Joan Royer, 103 North Hanover street, and to myself.

All six of the Pottstown letters were returned.

Only five of the Philadelphia letters arrived at their destination.

SOMEONE in Philadelphia got away with a letter, addressed to the DeLong agency, and he did it in the very shadows of Independence Hall, symbol of integrity and all the fine ideals Americans are noted for.

U. S. Challenges Red China's Charge On Students, But Skirts Recognition

Johnson Avoids Diplomatic Trap

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP)—The United States was reported today to have challenged Red China to name names and be otherwise specific in its charges about U.S. detention of Chinese students.

This became known as the Nationalist Chinese issued a statement decrying Red Chinese efforts to deal with the United States on the student issue.

CANCER KILLS SUZAN BALL

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 5 (AP)—Motion picture actress Suzan Ball died at 8:35 p. m. (Pottstown time) today in a private residence to which she had been taken recently from the City of Hope hospital.

She succumbed to cancer of the lung. She was 21 years old and the wife of actor Richard Long.

More than 18 months ago she underwent an operation for removal of her right leg because of cancer.

Since then she married and appeared in a movie and on television. It was hoped the surgery had cured her.

However, the ailment recurred and last July 5 she was admitted to the City of Hope medical center. Her condition at that time was described as serious.

THROUGHOUT her final illness the actress remained cheerful and hoped that she might be cured. Her young husband and friends withheld from her the seriousness of the ailment.

The illness stemmed from a fall on a dance floor more than two years ago. She had just been signed to a movie contract.

Her entertainment career had its beginning at a charity bazaar at Santa Maria, Calif., where she moved with her family after she was graduated from North Hollywood High school.

She baked a cake for the bazaar. Camp Cooke soldiers saw her picture with the cake and sent the photo to a talent agent. She won a contract with Universal-International.

The Nationalists called it a sinister maneuver to win some sort of diplomatic recognition for the Peiping regime.

U. Alexis Johnson, U. S. representative at the ambassadorial talks with Red China in Geneva, is understood to have made the demand for case-by-case information.

It was seen here as a means of dealing with the issue without falling prey to a double Communist gambit striking at the U. S. policy of withholding diplomatic recognition from Peiping.

RED CHINA'S premier Chou En-lai made his double pitch last weekend. In a speech at Peiping Chou said there are "a great many overseas Chinese in the United States, among whom students alone number several thousands."

Thus, Chou was asserting a claim to an interest in all the Chinese in the United States. Further he was completely bypassing the diplomatic missions of Nationalist China which are recognized by the U. S. government as the agency in such matters.

The Chinese student issue arose in connection with American attempts to win freedom of 40 civilians held inside Red China. The Communists have freed all 15 U. S. servicemen they admitted holding past the deadline for exchanging war prisoners under the Korean truce.

The Chinese Nationalist in Washington recalled that the students came to the United States on Nationalist passports after World War II and before the Communists conquered the mainland in 1949.

The statement said the Nationalist government has a standing offer of free ocean passage to Formosa for any student and free room and board after arrival until jobs are found. It said 70 had accepted this offer already and "more are expected to follow."

GOP MAKES SURE TAX BILL WON'T POP UP AGAIN

HARRISBURG, Aug. 5 (AP)—The Republican-controlled Senate today laid to rest—finally and irrevocably—Governor Leader's proposal for a 411 million dollar classified income tax.

The 26 Republican senators temporarily revived the House-passed bill they defeated last night and then voted it down again to prevent any further reconsideration by the Democrats in the 1955 legislature.

There were no funeral operations for this bill. The GOP senators didn't say a word about their opposition to the levy as they went through the technicalities of obliterating the measure.

Sen. John H. Dent, in contrast to his biting attacks of yesterday, was conciliatory in his remarks to the Republicans. The Democratic floor leader said:

"I WOULD humbly beseech the Republican majority to discuss among themselves and their advisers this problem so that when we come back here next week we will get a suggestion on a sphere of taxation in which we can operate."

"If we do, I am sure we will find the basis for some compromise."

Red Borscht to Invade Iowa Farmers' Kitchens

ROSTOV-ON-DON, U. S. S. R., Aug. 5 (AP)—Lots of Iowa housewives are going to have to learn to make borscht—a thick Russian cabbage-beet soup. And it'll have to be good borscht, too, to satisfy American farmers now touring Soviet Russia.

The Iowa housewife who is going to help them is Mrs. Lauren Soth, wife of the assistant editor of the Des Moines, Iowa Register and Tribune.

Soth thought up the Iowa-Soviet farmer exchange. He announced at a collective farm banquet during their tour of the Kuban area of the Ukraine that he liked Kuban borscht and asked the cook for the recipe, "which I want to take home to my wife as a present."

Carmen Miranda Dies

Heart Attack is Fatal To Brazilian Dancer

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Aug. 5 (AP)—Carmen Miranda, peppery singer dancer and actress famous for her fruit salad headgear, died today at her home.

The Brazilian personality, born in Portugal in 1914, suffered a heart attack after finishing a television film with Jimmy Durante last night.

Dr. W. L. Marker said that Miss Miranda had a slight attack of bronchitis recently after her return from Cuba and several night club engagements.

Her husband, film producer David Sebastian, said that she apparently was feeling well after a late supper following her TV performance. She collapsed as she was going to bed, he said.

MISS MIRANDA, a star during the early 1940s, had made only infrequent appearances on the screen in recent years. Her last picture was "Scared Stiff" with Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis.

Most of her recent engagements were in night clubs, including appearances locally and in Las Vegas.

She was born Maria do Carmo Miranda da Cunha and emigrated to Brazil with her parents when she was three months old. She was a 17-year-old model in a Rio de Janeiro department store when she appeared on a radio program.

An American radio network talent scout brought her to New York and success followed. Besides radio performances, she became a featured attraction at Lee Schubert's streets of Paris night club in New York.

The diminutive (5 feet 2, 38-pounds) singer and dancer was known for her sultry gyrations to Latin rhythms and some of the most exotic head garb.

Disgruntled Union Business Agent Shoots Three, Then Commits Suicide

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 5 (AP)—A disgruntled business agent for the Marine Firemen's union shot and wounded three other business agents in the union headquarters today, tried to kill Vincent Malone, head of the union, then ended his own life with a bullet through his temple.

Captain of police inspectors James English identified the gunman as Charles F. Berglund, 45, known to all his associates as "Swede."

Henry C. Walker, 45, was shot in the left chest. His condition was critical. John Hutton, 46, also had a bullet in the chest. His condition was described as "very good." Stuart Hunt, 38, had his back grazed by a bullet.

At a union meeting yesterday Berglund was defeated 122 to 5 in

Airman Learns Wife Re-married

TOKYO, Saturday, Aug. 6 (AP)—Eleven U. S. Airmen arrived last night on their way home to loved ones after 32 months of imprisonment in Red China—one bearing the leaked-out secret that his wife married another man because she thought he was dead.

Airman 2/C Daniel C. Schmidt, 22, of Redding, Calif., chanced to hear on a broadcast in the Philippines of what the Air Force was still reluctant to tell him.

He appeared relaxed and smiled with the other ten for cameramen at Tachikawa air base after they arrived from Manila in two C-54 transports, one of them the famed Bataan, former personal plane of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Schmidt hoped to talk by telephone today to his wife, Una, in California. She was reported to be weighing the idea of leaving both him and her second husband, Alford Fine, a logging tractor driver, so that both of them might court her to a decision.

She is the mother of Schmidt's 2½-year-old son, Daniel, whom the airman has never seen.

'Misunderstood' Bulganin Says

Aerial Inspection Proposal Still Considered in Moscow

MOSCOW, Aug. 5 (AP)—Premier Nikolai Bulganin made a surprise second appearance today before the Supreme Soviet (parliament) to assure the Russian people and the world Moscow still is considering President Eisenhower's proposal for mutual aerial inspection of military establishments.

Bulganin said he was misunderstood yesterday when his remarks were taken as a rejection of the American proposal.

Naturally, Bulganin said, the Soviet Union prefers its own disarmament proposals, but it would not refuse to consider other sincere plans, and still is studying the President's.

"Everything will turn out well," the white-bearded Premier said, and the deputies cheered. Yesterday the deputies burst into laughter when Bulganin said there was plenty of room in both countries to hide things from planes. THIS UNSCHEDULED second appearance of the Premier came after President Eisenhower told his news conference in Washington he did not feel the Soviet Union had finally slammed the door to agreement on disarmament.

The President said the United States would consider Soviet proposals sympathetically in a search for a formula fair to both.

The Eisenhower proposal at the Geneva summit conference called for an exchange of military blueprints of both countries as a step toward the mutual trust needed to pave the way for disarmament.

The Russians made no public reply to this proposal until yesterday.

Bulganin told his parliament that though he paid tribute to the implied desire to contribute to the solution of the complicated dis-

Navy Snubs Top Student

Mother's Tie with Commies Bars Commission to Youth

KINGS POINT, N. Y., Aug. 5 (AP)—A 21-year-old midshipman was graduated today with second highest honors in his class at the U. S. Merchant Marine academy.

But he was denied a Naval Reserve commission because his widowed mother once was a Communist.

"I wish they'd punish me instead of him," the mother said.

Cadet Eugene Landy, a handsome athlete and would-be lawyer, stood with the rest of his class in dress white uniform as the ensign's oath was administered. But his hand was not raised. He took no oath.

He has a six months period during which he may reapply for the commission. He said he would do so.

LANDY'S OWN loyalty was not questioned. The Navy merely said he was "extremely close to his mother and she has been a Communist."

The mother, Mrs. Deborah Landy, 54, of Bradley Beach, N. J., said her son talked her into quitting the party about 1947 after she had been a member for ten years. She added:

"He sort of gave me an ultimatum that I quit or he would leave home. He reformed me and yet he is suffering for it. I'd rather go to jail than have him suffer."

Young Landy expressed fear his career in admiralty law might be endangered. Without the commission that Merchant Marine graduates normally receive, he will be liable for the draft. He intends to enter Yale university on a scholarship this Fall to study law.

IN LANDY'S class of 96 cadets, only two other graduates were denied commissions. Both flunked physical examinations.

An academy spokesman called Landy "one of the brightest students we have ever had." He also was a football and tennis star.

"Whatever his mother may have done," this official added, "There has never been any question of Landy's loyalty here."

Landy, himself, called his own political views "pretty conservative."

After the administration of the oath, Landy and the other graduates heard a graduation speech by maritime administrator Clarence G. Morse. It contained no reference to the youth's case.

Then, in his turn, Landy marched to an outdoor platform to receive his scholastic honors, his degree and his license as a merchant marine officer—all the academy had the power to bestow on him.

Appeal to Eastern Rites

Pope Seeks Church Reunion

VATICAN CITY, Aug. 5 (AP)—Pope Pius XII appealed today for a reunion of Eastern Rites with the Roman Catholic Church. His appeal was regarded as a plea to all the branches of the Orthodox Church, which does not recognize the supremacy of the Vatican.

The Pontiff's appeal was contained in a letter to Archmandrite Isidore Groce, abbot of the monastery of Santa Maria Grottaferrata, outside Rome.

The monastery is a seat for that branch of the Eastern rite which recognizes the Pope. A spokesman at the monastery interpreted the appeal as one directed to the Orthodox churches, which are widely spread through Russia, Greece, the Balkans and Asia Minor.

The Pope's letter was in commemoration of the ninth centennial of the death of St. Bartholomew Junior, Greek-born follower of St. Nilus the Younger.

ST. NILIUS founded the Eastern Rite monastery at Grottaferrata. St. Bartholomew was one of its first abbots.

"Preventions have all too long kept apart from the (Roman Catholic) Church so many of her sons," the Pope's letter said.

"Can we not with Divine aid finally yield to the truth? In reality the people of the East have nothing to fear from a reunion with the Roman Church—the greatly desired and necessary return to her.

The Roman Catholic Church and the Eastern Orthodox churches split in the 11th century after seven centuries of controversy. The Orthodox churches, including the Big Greek and Russian rites, have a membership of over 128 million.

Haines Pleads Innocent, Faces September Jury

CARLISLE, Aug. 5 (AP)—Percy Haines pleaded innocent today at a preliminary hearing on a murder charge in the slaying of an attorney in the Cumberland county courthouse.

The 60-year-old Newville RD 1 man was ordered held for the September term of the grand jury on a charge of murdering John D. Faller Jr. during a brief spree of gunplay Tuesday in the courtroom.

Judge Mark E. Garber, Haines' 60-year-old wife, Lulu, and George Black, 41, another attorney, were wounded by Haines' gunfire.

Says She Aided Rebel

Pancho Villa Cache Revealed by Woman

EL CENTRO, Calif., Aug. 5 (AP)—A 76-year-old Mexican spinster has told authorities where she says $1,500,000 in gold coin was buried by the late rebel leader Pancho Villa in Texas graveyards, an official said today.

R. P. Ostrander, Imperial county Veterans Service officer, said Dolores Vasquez of nearby Brawley claimed to have been a full colonel in Villa's army and his most trusted aide.

He said the woman, ill in the county hospital, gave the information in an expressed desire that the gold should go to disabled U. S. war veterans.

Ostrander was called to her bedside, and he notified Dist. Atty. Arthur Lockie's office. Lockie said her deposition was taken in shorthand by a court reporter with the assistance of an interpreter and may be turned over to the Federal government.

OSTRANDER SAID Miss Vasquez described graveyard locations in apparent detail, even telling the names engraved on headstones under which she said the outlaw buried gold.

In the hospital today Miss Vasquez showed a reporter what she said were bullet wounds on her chest inflicted when a firing squad gunned her down and left her for dead.

She also showed a number of identification cards bearing her name and photograph and identifying her as a colonel in the rebel army.

ACTION TAKEN TO ELIMINATE GASEOUS ODOR

Work was under way yesterday to put an end to the gaseous odor that has been annoying residents of Parkerford and the surrounding area for more than a month.

The action was taken after many complaints. Mrs. John A. Loehr, Parkerford, described the odor as "a terrible smell that makes you feel just as though you were seasick."

The odor was defined by the State Bureau of Industrial Hygiene as a harmless odorless gas, added to odorless natural gas to detect fuel that has been leaking from the pipes and valves at the United Gas Improvement company's vaporizer unit in Parkerford.

In an air contamination report made on the Parkerford area, the following statement was made by the Bureau of Industrial Hygiene: "Because of the powerful odoriferous property of ethyl mercaptan, (the odorless gas) an extremely small amount in the atmosphere can easily be detected by the average person, to his annoyance, and at definitely lower concentrations than are injurious to health."

THE REPORT was made after Eva B. Walt, Parkerford, complained of the odor to health authorities in Harrisburg.

Yesterday, Charles S. Lengle, plant superintendent of UGI's Reading division, was at the Parkerford plant where a crew was taking steps to dispose of the odor. Lengle explained the delay in stopping the "onion-like" fumes by saying that new heavy-duty valves, now being installed, were delayed in shipment.

Lengle said that besides these new valves being installed, a new gasket was put into the head of the tank, which contains the odorizer, to insure that no leakage would result from the repairs being made.

"We feel pretty certain that this will do the job," said Lengle, adding that, "some of this recent odor in the neighborhood may have resulted from putting in these new valves. I think this will eliminate it."

Church Group Sets Annual Picnic Date

HARMONYVILLE — Esther Taylor, Star Route, Pottstown, cor. Charles Ors, del.

The Harmonyville Brethren Sunday school will hold its annual picnic in the grove adjoining the church, Saturday, Aug. 13.

Mrs. George Green is in the Memorial hospital, after being hurt in a fall at her home.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry McCalicher recently were: Edward Davis, son, and grandson of Georgia; Joseph Foley and son of Philadelphia; Paul Foley and son of Pottstown; Mr. and Mrs. Rueben Christman and son of Schwenksville; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hausman and son of New Tripoli and Mr. and Mrs. James Matters of Pottstown Landing.

SWEEPSTAKES VETOED
CONCORD, N.H., Aug. 5 (AP)—Gov. Lane Dwinell today vetoed a proposal to set up a state-operated horse race sweepstakes which proponents had estimated would bring in $2,000,000 a year.

Pottstown's Finest

Hope for the future lies in Pottstown schools. The Mercury is publishing pictures of Pottstown's finest, the children in our schools. Every day a new room of school children will be shown here. Save the series, and enjoy them anew in future years.

Local Man Fined $200 For Drunk Driving

After he pleaded guilty to a charge of drunken driving, Michael K. Budich, of 306 North Evans street, Pottstown, was fined $200 by Judge E. Arnold Forrest yesterday.

The defendant was arrested July 16 by Pottstown Police Sgt. Irvin K. Frederick.

Sgt. Frederick testified that Budich struck a parked car belonging to Charles D. Zern, of 221 Jefferson avenue. The automobile was standing in front of Zern's home.

HIGHER AND HIGHER—This plant was sky high by the Fourth of July, all right—but this isn't in Iowa and it isn't corn. Nor is this the storied beanstalk manned by a somewhat graying Jack. This, nature lovers, is an overzealous Russian beauty sunflower raised by John W. Mackewicz, of Willow street, Pottstown Route 20, who stands at right. The sunflower is nearly 10 feet tall, nearly four feet higher than the height attained by normal Russian beauties (the plant kind). The 77-year-old Mackewicz, who raises sunflowers in his backyard as a hobby, says he gave the plant "special treatment" and that it got an extra boost from the scorching sun which has been glaring down almost unceasingly for the past six weeks.

Hay Fever Time Due in Borough Within 10 Days

The hay fever season, although not yet officially underway, will strike the borough in a week to ten days.

Sniffling and sneezing due to pollen from the pesky ragweed plant usually begins about Aug. 15, according to local doctors.

In the meantime, though, druggists have been dispensing nostrums and pills for stuffy noses caused by allergies from other weeds and grasses.

"Business has been steady for some time," said F. Brooke Binder of Binder's Drug store. "We've had a little increase I think in the hot spell of the past couple weeks. We're selling a lot of prescription medicine and also some patent stuff such as capsules and powders."

ANTI-HAY FEVER and other nose and respiratory ailment medicine has been selling well all through July, according to Doyle Sheasley, proprietor of Denler's Drug store.

Maurice Kresson of Sunset pharmacy reported that the nostrums started selling way back in May.

"It's the same old story," he said, "although it's been twice as bad with the dry spell. We sell some on prescription and some over the counter."

A pharmacist at Bentz Drug store said the anti-histamines are "moving along pretty well" as a deterrent to the hay fever suffering.

DOCTORS GENERALLY agreed that the Summer's hot dry weather hadn't made the ragweed mature more rapidly.

"Actually it's the pollen," said Dr. D. B. Alexander. "The combination of the dry weather and pollen is greatest toward the Fall."

Other asthmatic conditions this Summer have occurred because of the intense humidity, Dr. Alexander added.

Both the giant and dwarf ragweed plants grow in the Pottstown area, Dr. C. W. Hancox said, and both of them cause suffering to certain people.

"It generally starts around Aug. 15," he said. "I don't think the dry weather has affected the ragweed very much, unless it slowed up the growth a bit."

The "deadline" for ragweed sufferers is Aug. 15, according to Dr. Alice E. Sheppard. She mentioned allergies from various molds as also causing some trouble in late Summer.

There are calumnies against which innocence loses courage.—Napoleon.

Saturday Sermon

The Greatest Personality

NOTHING in all history has ever held such fascination for mankind as the personality of Jesus Christ.
What manner of man was He who captured the imagination of all who came to know Him as to hold them in willing lifetime servitude?
That He must have had an irresistible personality is evident from the record.

He saw two brethren, Peter and Andrew casting a net into the sea and He called to them "Follow me, —And they straightway

A little later he saw two other brethren, James and John. They were in a ship with Zebedee, their father, mending their nets. He spoke to them, "And they immediately left the ship and their father, and followed Him."

These men did not ask for credentials and references. They did not inquire about where Jesus had been educated, what degrees He held, or what positions of responsibility He had filled.

There was something so luminous and convincing about His personality as to make lesser things seem unimportant.

There was no discussion, no asking of questions or imposing of conditions; no requests for time to think it over, no question of wages, rewards, or fringe benefits; but under the fascination created by the personality of the Son of God, "... They straightway left their nets, and followed Him."

Jesus wrought the greatest revolution in the history of mankind.

He changed being good from a duty, to a pleasure; he wrote the moral law into the human heart and caused it to be observed, not from fear of punishment, but because man felt that way inside.

Here was a man who proved that love was stronger than hate; that the desire to serve could be stronger than the desire for prestige, power or gain. Not that He disapproved of diligence, or success in business, for He approved of both; but He did not want men to ignore eternal values.

In tribute to Jesus Christ, men toiled for centuries throughout the Middle Ages erecting great temples to honor Him.

His personality inspired artists to their best efforts.

The greatest music was composed and sung in His honor.

Men and women whom the world recognized as Saints were those who succeeded best in their efforts to live lives similar to His.

Men's hope of conquering poverty and achieving peace center in Him.

Come On In

FINE weather these days—for swimming.

An English girl swam from Capri to Naples in a race won by an Argentinian, a Canadian girl swam across the English Channel and a Yugoslav who dropped his passport overboard drove into New York Harbor and came up with the document in his teeth.

Meanwhile Antonio Abertondo of Argentina swam 221 miles down the Mississippi from St. Louis, ran into a backward current and became exhausted 71 miles short of Caruthersville.

Perhaps there is little continuity in all this marine activity, but it does seem that the idea is to swim somewhere else. In retrospect, the distant swimming hole always was more challenging.

English girls swimming down the Thames, or Argentinians in the Plata, do not make much news, and whoever heard of a Neapolitan outward bound for Capri with an Australian crawl? It would be pointless.

About the last local boy to make any reputation in his home waters was Leander, and he failed to go places in the end.

Welcome News Dep't.

HAVING tried fog sprays, which make our mosquitoes gaily intoxicated or fighting mad, and rub-on insect repellents, which our tormentors treat as steak sauce (with us the steak), we are heartened by news from the chemical industry.

Coming onto the market is something new in repellents—a shark repellent, guaranteed to kill the appetite of the fiercest man-eater.
We contemplate ordering the stuff in wholesale lots, and not because we expect to take up skin diving.

But if this also fails, the garden will have to go without weeding, the lawn without mowing and the mosquitoes without us the rest of the summer.

Time to Rebuild Some of Pottstown's Old Streets

Get Higher and Higher

To the Editor: I have been reading in The Mercury about all the street construction and resurfacing that is going on in Pottstown and I would like to have a few words about that.

We live on Chestnut street, where they oiled and then put on a layer of crushed stone.

Now this street is one of the older ones in Pottstown. Each time, the same thing is done to the street—oil and crushed stone. Over the years this has built up the crown of the street to a point where a car coming out a driveway onto the street can hardly make it without scraping the under side.

In other words, the dip from the gutter to the crown of the roadway is getting worse all the time.

What will happen in a couple of more years?

Take a look farther down (or up, depending upon how you look at it) near North Charlotte street. You park a car at the curb there and it's tilted at such an angle—two wheels in the gutter and two on the roadway—that it looks as if it might tip over on its side any minute.
A strong wind might even do it.

What's the answer?
Why, tearing down the crown of the

WASHINGTON

Red Leaders Try To Undermine Unity

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—The seemingly reorganized and reformed Soviet leaders will make another attempt to blow up NATO and Western unity in forthcoming discussions of Russo-German differences with Konrad Adenauer, the septuagenarian head of the pro-ally Bonn Government.

Despite fair promises at Geneva, a friendly or neutralized Germany still remains as Russia's basic diplomatic objective, as Washington recognizes.

If there was one agreement reached at the recent "Summit" meeting at Geneva, it was that the future role of Europe's warrior nation was vital to such questions as European peace and stability, and to termination of the "cold war." The problem was placed first on the agenda for the Foreign Ministers' conference in early October.

On details, however, the Geneva Conferees differ widely. Ike insists that a free and unified Germany, after honest elections, be permitted to determine and formulate its own foreign policy. Under assurances from Adenauer, he is convinced that it would align itself with the democratic powers.

KREMLIN DECISION ON GER-MANY: Bulganin and Khrushchev seemed to concede that such an arrangement would be logical, although not satisfactory to them. But when they visited the East German Zone on their way to Moscow from Geneva, they declared unequivocally that they would never tolerate a German alliance with NATO or the West.

They committed themselves to permanent division of the country as an alternative, and they did not seem to be talking only for local consumption or propaganda purposes.

Meanwhile, Adenauer has accepted their invitation to talk things over at Moscow, presumably early next month. Had the Chancellor consulted London or Washington, he would have postponed his visit until after the Foreign Ministers meet to settle problems passed on to them at Geneva a few weeks ago—German unification, a European Security Pact and disarmament.

Post-Geneva advices convince Eisenhower and Prime Minister Eden that Russia will submit such an attractive proposition to Adenauer that it will be difficult for him to refuse without losing caste at home. Almost 80 years old, a severe diplomatic or political reverse might break the "old man's" spirit, and a statesman more amenable to Communist temptation might succeed.

STRICTLY NEUTRAL: According to reports from Moscow and Bonn, Bulganin and Khrushchev will agree to free German elections, even though the larger West German vote would mean a verdict for unification without any Russian ties.

But the Red's offer would be accompanied with insistence that a rearmed and reunified Germany make no political or military commitments to either side in the "cold war."

Such a proposal, it is feared here, would strain Adenauer's friendship with the West. Indeed, it would amount to an appeal to the German people and politicians over his head.

The United States and Britain could prevent such a disastrous denouement only by continued occupation of Western Germany, which would violate the treaty granting sovereignty to the former enemy. It might throw even friendly Germans into the Russians' arms.

BAITED HOOKS: Russia will also agree to vastly increased trade, exchanging raw materials for finished goods and heavy equipment. Bonn will need economic assistance, in view of the new burden of rearmament costs and loss of revenue from eventual evacuation of Allied forces. Another Red bid will be the promise to return an estimated 100,000 Germans still held as prisoners of war.

street to a lower level. I know this takes money, just the same as do the new streets they are building in the North End.

But in the North End, where new streets are being built, the property owners pay part of the cost. As I understand it, after a street is built the borough maintains it.

Is this the reason the streets, such as Chestnut, are being passed up in favor of the North End streets? Are the taxpayers who have been paying for the past 20 or more years being sidetracked in favor of the newer ones?

What incentive is there for a person to fix up his property when he has that kind of street?

Best to Live by Bible?

To the Editor: Is it better to live by the Bible and principles of faith that one hears from the pulpit or to live by one's own conscience?

The person who sets his own high standards of conduct and lives by them without ever looking at the Bible surely deserves more consideration from God than one who blindly follows someone else's teachings.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CLARA L., aged 47, was hysterical with fear as she telephoned me long distance for advice.

"Oh, Dr. Crane, my doctor says I have a tumor of the bowel," she began, and was crying as she talked.

"He recommends an immediate operation, but I am so afraid: Do you think I will die on the operating table? I have two children in high school and I don't want to leave them yet."

USUALLY I refrain from dealing in this column with purely medical problems, but there are exceptions.

Fear causes more pain and disturbance of your normal physiology than cancer or any other ailment.

For fear can produce insomnia, peptic ulcer, high blood pressure, spastic colitis, and a host of other actual or organic ailments.

So face the facts and you'll be more calm. To do that, of course, you must have frank scientific data, which is why your editor runs this clinical column.

You don't need worry about dying on the operating table. That is such a rarity that you can dismiss it as a very remote possibility.

Furthermore, you lose very little blood during any operation. You have five or six quarts, and may lose only a few tablespoonsful at most.

If you have an obstruction of the bowel caused by a tumor, that section of your bowel may be cut out, just as you might cut out a six-inch piece of leaking garden hose to repair it.

SOMETIMES IT is wise to detour the contents of the bowel for a few weeks, so a hole is cut in the abdominal wall and the bowl is brought to the surface.

A slit in the side of the bowel may be made so the contents can empty into a little bag worn over the new exit.

"But suppose I have cancer?" Clara fearfully inquired. "Would the surgeon cut it all out?"

He will cut out all that he can find.
Sometimes a tiny bit of the cancer may float away in the blood stream and lodge in some small blood vessel, possibly in the liver, where it might start up afresh.

But that's a chance you have to take in life. So place your faith in God and trust your surgeon to do all that is medically possible.

Then live like a lion instead of a fearful, timid sheep. Death is only a graduation ceremony where you go on to the next classroom in God's Cosmic School System, so team up with God and you need not fear graduation.

No, you cannot get cured, but in diabetes you can often get along without insulin shots by lopping off excess fat and by watching your diet so you don't overeat.

She'll Forego Dust and All

To the Editor: Whew! This dust from the street is terrible.

If the borough can get along by passing up our street the next time it decides to scatter this crushed rock or whatever it is, I and all of my neighbors will be mightily pleased.

We don't wet it down for fear we'll be called water-wasters.

So we suffer. Kerchoo!

To the Editor: Some things I wonder about when I read in The Mercury news items like the one about the canoe being stolen from the North Coventry side of

Now where would you use a canoe these days?

There is hardly enough water in the Schuylkill. And most other streams look like trickles from a water faucet.

I just don't believe anyone would be so foolish now as to steal a canoe.

Also at that studio, Nancy Gates, so often seen set-side, is doing "World Without End" opposite Hugh Marlowe. Nancy was F. Sinatra's leading lady in the flicker, "Suddenly" if you remember.

EVA MARIE Saint, who'll do the musical TVersion of "Our Town" with Sinatra next month, got less than $10,000 for her entire role in "On the Waterfront" — but she won an Academy Award for it.
Soooo — now Paramount will pay little Eva fifty thousand $$$ for her lead in "King of Hearts" with Bob Hope! At those prices, you can bet they've built up her part in the film considerably!... Linda Darnell and wealthy mate, Phil
Liebman, are both in Filmmville.
But we'll be darned if we can find anyone who's seen them TOGETHER since their arrival a week ago. However, they have been flitting around separately and what cooks there only time will tell. Neither will talk.

Pottstown Sketches

ALL AROUND THE TOWN

For Legs of Beauty . . . Fame for Hosiery . . .

★ HOPEFUL — One of the biggest rooters for Pam Ulrich, who's Miss Pennsylvania of 1956, in the Miss American beauty pageant at Atlantic City next month will be Charles V. Eaton, South Pottstown hosiery manufacturer. For the dark-haired Reading RD 1 beauty will be wearing hosiery made by Eaton's Douglass Hosiery Mill company, and if Miss Pennsylvania should go on to wear the Miss America crown, Douglass hosiery will get a huge promotion job all over the country. It'll have the endorsement of America's No 1 beauty wherever she goes. Eaton has agreed to supply Miss Ulrich with a year's supply of hosiery in return for her endorsement of his product. And, if she should become Miss America, the company's hosiery will continue to adorn her dainty feet where all can see until the next beauty pageant rolls around. . . .

HOW DOES a company go about lining up an endorsement with a beauty queen? "I've been after this for years," Eaton says, "but you have to start early." So he put in his bid before the finals of the Miss Pennsylvania contest some weeks ago.
Several years ago, when the Ephrata gal won the Miss America title, Eaton tried for an endorsement. But then it would have cost him a cool $1500 just for her to pose for a picture with Douglass hosiery, so Eaton turned it down. This time he got in on the ground floor. How much is a year's supply of hosiery for a gal like Miss Ulrich? Well, the average woman goes through 19 to 20 pairs of hosiery a year, statistics show. But with Miss Ulrich's many public appearances and many changes of clothing, Eaton estimates that it will mean 10 dozen pairs. . . .

★ EATON WILL carry out his part of the bargain by providing Miss Ulrich with a complete hosiery wardrobe — daytime sheers, evening sheers, etc. And they'll be the "stretch sheer" type, which doesn't wrinkle on the calf of the leg. It's a type of hosiery, Eaton said, which keeps the seam straight on the leg. Miss Ulrich will come to Pottstown on Aug. 16 to choose her hosiery style, size. Then she'll pose for the photographers with Eaton and with a representative of the William Montgomery company store chain, which handles Douglass hosiery exclusively. The photos will go out to trade journals of industry-wide circulation. Eaton looks on the idea as one of the greatest promotion stunts his company has ever attempted.

NEW BUSINESS — EDWARD L.
"PENNY" PENNYPACKER, former office manager of the Pottstown Automobile club, is going into the real estate and insurance business about Sept. 1. He'll set up an East End branch of the Roy Binder real estate agency, with his office in the former Little Shop, a gift store once operated by Pennypacker's wife, MARIAN, at their 77 South Keim street home.
Pennypacker left the automobile club about a month ago after suffering two heart attacks, the last one less serious. But he's recovered and active now. Mrs. Pennypacker, starting in September, will take over a part-time teaching position at Wynd-croft school. They have one child, Patricia. . . .

★ HOSPITAL 'VACATION' — Sometimes, you just can't get away from it all.
Take the case of Mrs. Furman T. Jones Jr. Mrs. Jones, the attractive blond switchboard operator at Pottstown hospital (she lives at 125 West Sixth street), was all set to take a two-week vacation
a few weeks back. So, what happens?
Mrs. Jones winds up spending most of her first week in Memorial hospital (of all places) and the second at home! All of this can be traced to her nine-year-old son, Furman 3rd, who underwent an operation the first week of his mother's "vacation." Naturally, no respectable mother would leave an ailing son in the hospital to take off on a vacation. So Mrs.
Jones spent every possible moment of her son's confinement with him in the hospital. The second week of her "vacation," young Furman came home, and since the lad was still incapacitated by the operation, his mother gave up her time off to look after her boy. A vacation shot? Well, hardly. After all, mothers will be mothers.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

RECURRENT attacks of vomiting are comparatively common among infants and children.

While there are a variety of causes for such alarming attacks, cyclical vomiting, or vomiting in fairly regular cycles, usually can be traced to nervous or dietetic causes.

If your youngster is what you might call the nervous type, the excitement of the beginning of school, an approaching party, or a long awaited outing, might precipitate an attack. Again, car sickness may be the cause.

Cyclical vomiting is most often found in children over the age of three. Usually, a short period of nausea, listlessness and abdominal discomfort will signal the start of an attack.

When the vomiting begins, it is apt to be difficult to control for two days or more. Your child will become tired and weak and might complain of pain in the upper abdomen.

He will need expert medical attention.
Meanwhile, put him to bed in a darkened room.

If his bowels have not moved for 24 hours, your physician probably will suggest an enema. He may administer sedatives, also.

Try giving your ailing youngster sips of sweetened orange juice. Begin with 1 dram and double the dose each half hour as long as he retains the fluid. Or maybe your doctor will suggest a mixture of saline and glucose instead of the orange juice.

Guest Speakers to Fill Church Pulpits Tomorrow

SOME APPEAR FOR FIRST TIME, OTHERS KNOWN

Guest speakers will fill the pulpits of many Pottstown and area churches for morning, afternoon and evening services tomorrow.

Some will be making their first appearance here, while others are familiar figures to those who will hear them.

The Rev. Richard C. Klick, former pastor of Transfiguration Lutheran church, will return there as guest speaker tomorrow. He will preach at the service at 10:45 a. m.

First Baptist church will have Dr. C. Adrian Heaton, director of the school of Christian education at Eastern Baptist seminary, as its guest speaker at a 10 a. m. Communion Service. He will speak on "Believing Is Seeing."

AT FIRST Methodist, the Rev. Merrill B. Graves, pastor of Thornedale Methodist church, will speak at 10:45 a. m. worship. Guest speaker at the 7:30 p. m. evening service will be the Rev. Maris H. Griffiths, pastor of Evansburg Methodist. The Rev. Griffiths will bring a message on "God's Clothes."

Christ Episcopal church will resume its full schedule tomorrow, the Rev. George A. Lineker, rector, announced. This includes Holy Communion and healing service at 8 a. m.; church school and Bible class at 9:45 a. m.; Holy Communion and sermon "You Dropped Your Hat" at 11 a. m.; and nursery school at 11 a. m.

The choir will be in attendance at the 11 a. m. service.

Salaries of the Episcopal parish were on vacation during July, the rector explained.

R. E. Ewing, state superintendent of the Pennsylvania Temperance league, will speak at Milford Evangelical United Brethren churches tomorrow. He will be at the East Greenville church at 9 a. m.; the Hendricks church at 11 a. m.; and the Upper Milford church at 7:15 p. m.

A Righteous Wrath and a Christian Concern" is his topic.

THE REV. Melvin A. Kurtz, Norristown, will be guest speaker at both a Pottstown and an area church tomorrow. He will preach at St. James Lutheran, Pottstown, at 10:30 a. m. and at St. James Lutheran, Limerick, at 2 p. m.

At St. Peter's Lutheran, Stowe, the Rev. Dr. Paul Yount, Schwenksville, will be guest speaker. He will preach at the service at 10:15 a. m.

A former member of Seales Methodist church will be in that pulpit tomorrow. The Rev. David High, now pastor of Frackville Methodist church, will speak at 8:30 a. m. and 10:45 a. m. services.

At the King street Salvation Army citadel, Betty Flinn will be guest speaker at the 10:45 a. m. holiness meeting and Mrs. Martha Lucas and Mrs. Emma Delong will be in charge of the 7:30 p. m. evening service.

TRINITY REFORMED church members will hear two speakers who are spiritual sons of the congregation while the Rev. John B. Frantz, pastor, is away on vacation.

They are the Rev. Earl S. Christman Jr., Albany, N. Y., and the Rev. W. Murray Evans, West Collingswood, N. J. Both are serving congregations in the Presbyterian church.

The Rev. Christman will conduct the service and preach tomorrow morning at 10:45 o'clock. He will preach on the theme, "It's Time for a Change." He is a graduate of the University of Rochester and Princeton Theological Seminary and is serving as pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian church, Albany, N. Y.

The Rev. Evans will conduct the service and preach on Aug. 14. He is pastor of the West Collingswood Presbyterian church, West Collingswood, N. J.

The Rev. Christman is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl S. Christman Sr., Summit, N. J., former residents of Pottstown who were very active members of Trinity church. Mrs. Christman, the former Carrie Evans, was the soprano soloist in the congregation's choir. Her father, the late Jesse W. Evans, was an elder on the church Consistory for many years. Her brother, John B. Evans, and a sister, Mrs. George Smith, are still active members of the congregation.

Rev. Arthur H. Simpson to Preach Tomorrow Pastor Emeritus, 86, To Break Quiet Routine

By CONNIE MYER
(Mercury Staff Writer)

If anyone has peace of mind and soul it must be the Rev. Arthur H. Simpson, 86-year-old pastor emeritus of the First Presbyterian church. Content and fully occupied with his study of the new Standard Revised version of the Bible and his talks before ministers' groups, the Rev. Simpson seems to embody "the peace that passeth understanding."

He'll talk about this kind of peace tomorrow when he breaks his quiet routine to preach at the 11 a. m. service at First Presbyterian.

Pastor of the church for 24 years, the Rev. Simpson retired 16 years ago. He's presently observing his 57th year as an ordained minister.

THE TALL, white-haired pastor has seen many changes take place in churches during this time, some changes he doesn't like.

"Today a minister is so constantly in demand by church societies and other things that he has little time for study," he said. "I think most of the pastors in town only have a chance to really sit down and pore over books and reflect between 11 o'clock at night and 1 a. m. I couldn't do that myself, but they have to."

"And a pastor doesn't have a chance to go out and visit people like it used to be," he continued. "Everything is run from an office with a secretary and telephone and papers. They can't get away from the constant ringing of the telephone."

When the Rev. Simpson was a student in theological seminary a woman friend told him, "You'll never be a popular and successful minister because you're too honest."

He scoffed at this at the time, but today believes it's true.

"YOU HAVE to be so careful to be diplomatic and it is such a temptation to please everybody," he said reflectively. "But the truth must be spoken even if it hits someone right between the eyes. It's hard to do, but must be done."

He cited a case in his first years of preaching.

A man powerful in the community who seemed to want to control the church, in Rev. Simpson's opinion, returned to his pew after six months of illness.

Rev. Simpson, unaware that he was to return that Sunday, had prepared a sermon that he knew would as he said before, "hit him right between the eyes."

"AT FIRST I thought of changing my sermon, but it was impossible at that late time," he said. "So I went ahead and delivered it."

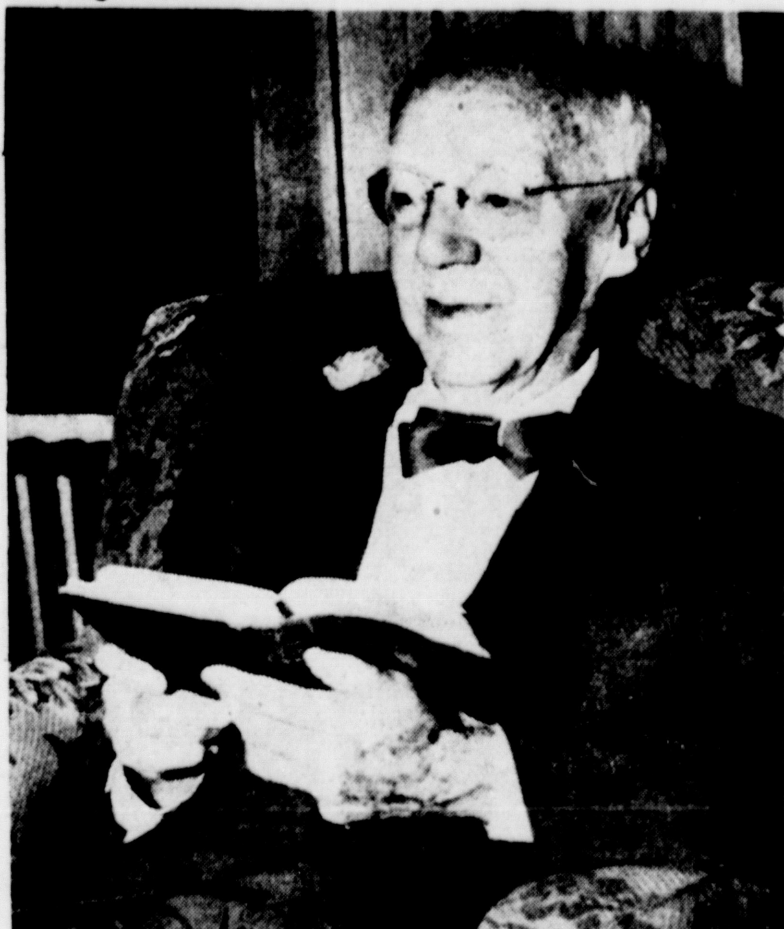

After the service, he said, the man told Mrs. Simpson, "That young fellow ought to be horse-whipped."

Two weeks later, when Rev. Simpson met the man on the street, the man told him never to preach that way again.

It was a difficult experience for a young minister, but it taught him a lesson.

SPEAKING of the church today compared to the way of Protestant churches when he was younger, Rev. Simpson noted an increase in ritual in most services.

Today most churches have a cross and other symbols in the sanctuary," he said. "And the choirs are gowned and have more elaborate selections and responses. I think it is better than the old plain, hymn, prayer, hymn, sermon and hymn kind of service. It creates more beauty and dignity." The aged pastor has also learned the value of reading the Bible passages with something more than a monotonous kind of chant.

TO PREACH TOMORROW—The Rev. Arthur H. Simpson, pastor emeritus of the First Presbyterian church, will come out of his semi-retirement tomorrow morning to preach at the 11 a. m. service of the church. Now 86, he is busy studying a new version of the Bible and talking to ministers' groups.

A Shakespearean actor once told him that "no ministers know how to read the Bible properly."

At first Rev. Simpson was angry and thought the statement untrue, but after thinking it over he decided the actor was right.

HE THEN SPENT a long time perfecting his delivery of Bible passages, learning how to put the right emphasis on the right words and bring out the full beauty of the word of God.

This "inspired" reading of the Bible is a topic that Rev. Simpson has discussed before innumerable ministers' groups in the area. It's one of his main occupations in these mellow years of retirement.

Alert to new ideas, he favors the New Standard Revised version of the Bible over the older St. James version.

"It is much easier to read," he explained. "The revised version has changed words so they are more understandable and taken out a lot of those very old archaic English words."

HE HAS STUDIOUSLY gone through the entire standard version and noted the changes, making margin comments and footnotes as he progressed.

Rev. Simpson, in speaking of the courage that ministers must have to face and say the truth, compared it to the courage of crusading newspaper editors.

"I think ministers and editors have a lot in common," he said. "And I also think that a newspaper man should talk to

NOTICE
Mr. and Mrs. Pasquale Fieni, of 432 Johnson St., Pottstown, on the day of August 9th, will sail on the U. S. Saturnia for Italy to do missionary work in that country.
This will be the third trip which Mr. Fieni will make to Italy for the sole purpose of spreading abroad the Gospel of Jesus Christ. Mr. Fieni feels lead of God to erect a building for the ministry of the Word. Land has been purchased for the building. But money is needed for the completion of the work. If you would have a part in this great work of faith, your contribution, small or large, will be deeply appreciated. Please send all gifts for this work to: C/O Pastor C. Didden, Limerick, Pa.

What Religion Does for Me

By NORMAN B. REED

Religion is not a crutch to lean upon, nor is it an Aladdin's lamp with magic power to satisfy all desires.

In view of Forrest B. Fritz, 914 North Washington street, religion is more inclusive than that.

"To me, religion means a constant communion with God," he explained. "Religion should be a daily walk with God."

Fritz, who is superintendent of the Sunday school at Trinity Evangelical Congregational church, strives to carry his religion with him all through the week.

"I feel that my personal faith in Jesus Christ as Lord and Saviour gives me the inspiration to live the way God would have me live," said Fritz. "My belief is in a triune God—that is, God revealed through His Son and through the Holy Spirit."

"SUCH A belief not only gives hope of spending eternity in Heaven, it inspires us to live day by day."

On weekdays, on the job as a supervisor at the Boyertown Auto Body works, Fritz feels his faith helps smooth out the problems that arise.

"It helps in personal relations too," he reflected. "My faith helps me do the right thing in difficult situations, when my feelings would tell me to do what I would be sorry for later."

Fritz believes a religious parent sets the best example for his child. He and his wife conduct daily devotions at home with their three-year-old son, David.

"The family that prays together, stays together," the father commented, quoting a church slogan. "We as parents should lead our children."

As a lay leader in his church, Fritz serves as a steward and delegate to annual conferences. He has been Sunday school superintendent for four years.

"It's my way of putting faith into action," he said. "God's word says faith without work is dead, so I try to back up my testimony with some service."

Waldheim Pupils To Lead Service

Young persons who attended the 35th anniversary session of the Waldheim school of methods recently will be in charge of the 7:30 p. m. service at Trinity Evangelical Congregational church tomorrow.

Those who attended the denominational school from Pottstown include Donna and Patricia Feight, Deanna Mauger, Evelyn Frymoyer, Sandra and Kathleen Hoffman, Kathleen Mitchell, LaRue Frymoyer, Judith Feight, Jean Zettlemoyer, Virginia Dorner, Henrietta Millard, Paul Feight, Carlton Koons, Billy Feight and James Eschbach.

KNOW HIM ?

Juvenile delinquency was just a term until they sent the boy down the street to what they politely termed a "training school." Then it became real, because this boy wasn't just a statistic but a kid who had played with your kids. Why, only last Sunday you had gone fishing with his father.

So now . . . you wondered why. The boy came from a good home—or did he? There was money enough, luxury enough, but it's true that his parents sometimes left him pretty much to his own devices. There were his mother's clubs and his father's business, and they led an active social life.

You asked yourself why . . . and in your heart you knew the answer. It lay in those gaps that had been left in his upbringing—great chinks, that should have been filled with faith, spiritual guidance, and solid enduring values. Thinking about it, you made up your mind to start taking your own kids to church on Sundays without fail—no matter how good the weather was for fishing.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

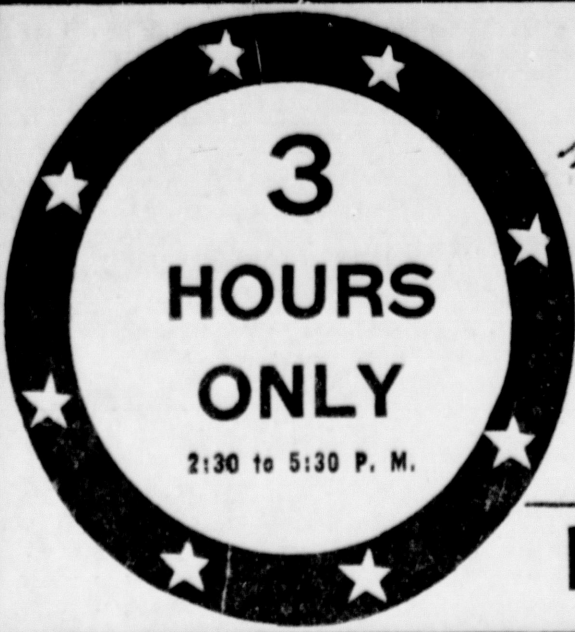

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

BUILT BY FAITH—The Assembly of God Tabernacle, Montgomery avenue, New Berlinville, was built upon a foundation of strong faith. Members of the congregation helped to construct the church with their own hands and tireless efforts.

Faith, Earnest Prayers Built New Tabernacle

Strong religious faith and the earnest prayers and efforts of an anxious minister and his congregation built the Assembly of God Tabernacle, Montgomery avenue, New Berlinville.

The Rev. LeRoy W. Wiley began conducting evening services in the old Ebenezer Methodist church, Boyertown, for a handful of people. Today, under his careful guidance a new church has been constructed and now boasts a membership of 82 persons.

In April, 1952, a Sunday school was organized and the Rev. Wiley said, "The membership began increasing slowly each week until in 1953 we had 40 persons attending."

During the Summer of that year, the small congregation was notified that the church was to be torn down. The Rev. Wiley immediately urged his members to begin praying that a lot or another building could be found, where they might continue their services.

THEIR PRAYERS were not in vain, for soon a lot on Montgomery avenue was donated for their use. It was at this time that plans to build a church were discussed.

Before undertaking the job, the Rev. Wiley once more asked his followers to place their faith in the hands of God. A sum of $150 was collected and the members began their task in October, 1953.

The minister had some experience in the carpentry and building field. He set to work and designed the plans for the new church. When they were completed he took them to John Brynan, Walnut street, Boyertown, and he drew the blueprints.

Members of the congregation joined their building talents and helped to dig the foundation and erect four walls. The Rev. Wiley gathered his members and they joined in prayer for enough money to put a roof over the church.

WITHIN A period of six weeks a sum of $1000, including building materials and cash, were at their disposal. The money, which came in within 2 days was sent to them by not only members of the church, but other persons, who had heard about the efforts of the small congregation.

It was at this time that the real work on the church got underway. The Rev. Wiley worked vigorously every day. Others offered their talents in electrical work, plumbing and plastering. Through their combined efforts the church was completed.

During the construction a loan was obtained from the Boyertown National bank. Today the church is carrying a $3500 mortgage.

Their faith was rewarded on January of this year, when the dedication ceremony took place. Ernest Linsinbiger, Melvin Heffner and James street. He also said the Schmoyer Lumber company, Boyertown, was very co-operative and donated many articles towards the building project.

Starting out with one service a week, the new church now has Sunday school, 9:30 o'clock Sunday morning; worship services at 10:45 o'clock and a young peoples service at 6:30 o'clock in the evening. A prayer service is held Wednesday evening at 7:45 o'clock.

The Rev. Wiley said, "Our church has been built on faith and it has been outstanding, considering that we undertook the great task on only $150."

Men of the church who worked on construction most faithfully, according to the Rev. Wiley, were John Brynan, William Grims,

Billy Graham Thinks About Visit to Russia

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (P)—Evangelist Billy Graham said today that, if he goes to Russia, he will preach the same as he has everywhere else in the world.

"Human needs are the same there and the Gospel of Christ is the same," he said. "When they get together, the reaction is the same."

Since his recent return from Europe, Graham has said he was thinking about going to Russia.

Vacationing With Mercury Readers

By THE VACATION EDITOR
Of The Mercury Staff

Are you up a tree when it is time to decide where you and your family will spend the Summer vacation this year?

Frank and Hazel Feight, 803 Benjamin Franklin highway, Stowe, saw a brown bear sitting high on top a shade tree, while they vacationed at Towanda, Bradford county, Pa.

They said, "Hope to see this bear next November." The Feights were referring to the hunting season. The brown bear would make a lovely rug for their home.

Their postcard shows the animal clinging to a branch and looking down at his mate. Perhaps the two had a few angry growls concerning what forest they should spend their vacation. Mrs. Bear decided the only way to convince her husband was to chase him up a tree until he consented to her ideas.

Pennsylvania bear country.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel H. Reifsn-

Moyer, 10 East Sixth street, are also taking their trip in the home

They sent their card from Moon Valley Game farm. The weather is hot in the day, but the nights are cool and pleasant."

Moon Valley.

Ocean City, Maryland is the vacation spot chosen by Mr. and Mrs. Warren Bechtel Jr. and family.

They write, "We are having a wonderful time here at the shore. Our day is filled with swimming, boating, crabbing and other activities."

As you can see, Pennsylvania offers just as many interesting vacation spots as our neighboring states. What about this weekend? Are you and your family planning to take a short trip to one of the many vacation spots in this state or elsewhere?

If you are, then you want to be tips.

sure to keep in touch with all your friends at home by sending a black and white postcard to the vacation editor, Pottstown Mercury. He will be glad to share your summertime fun with all your neighbors through The Mercury.

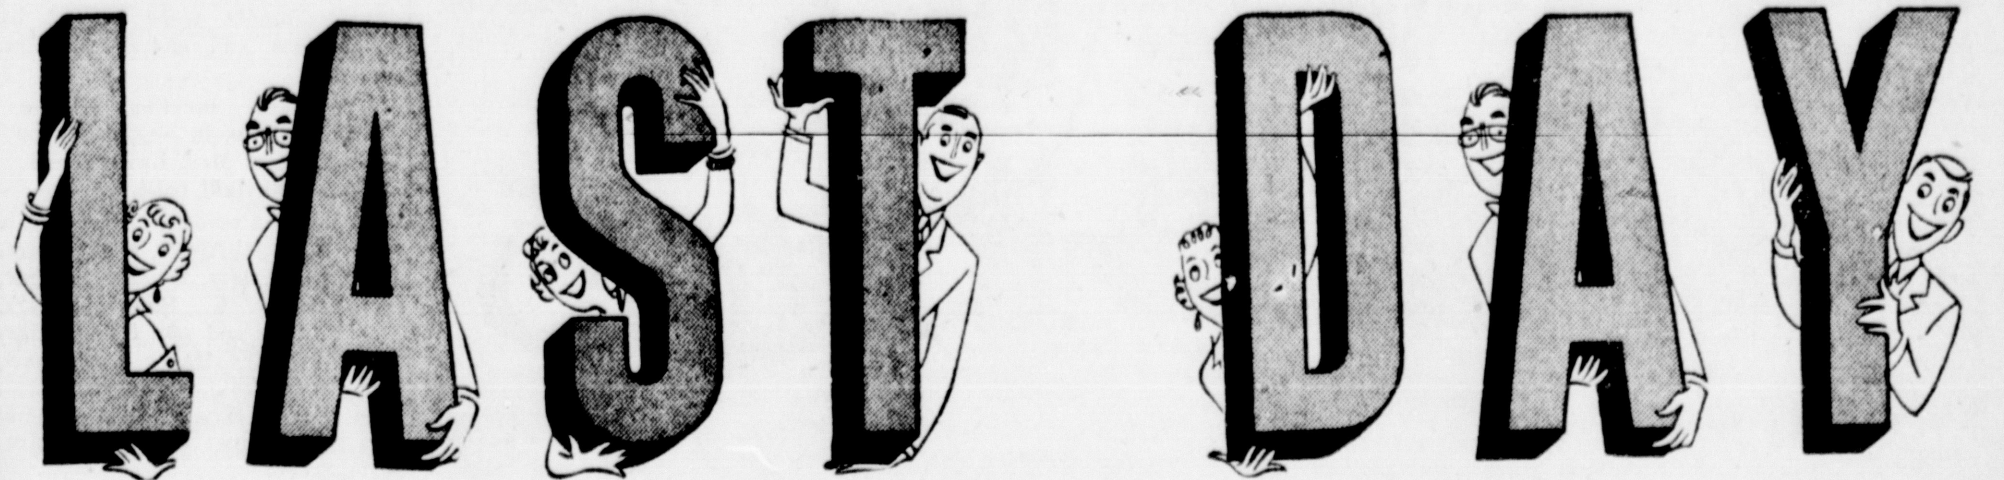

Grading to Start on Route 914 Next Week

Grading will start on Route 914 next week in preparation for surfacing. Hereford township supervisors announced after their meeting last night at the home of Secretary-Treasurer Raymond G. Albitz.

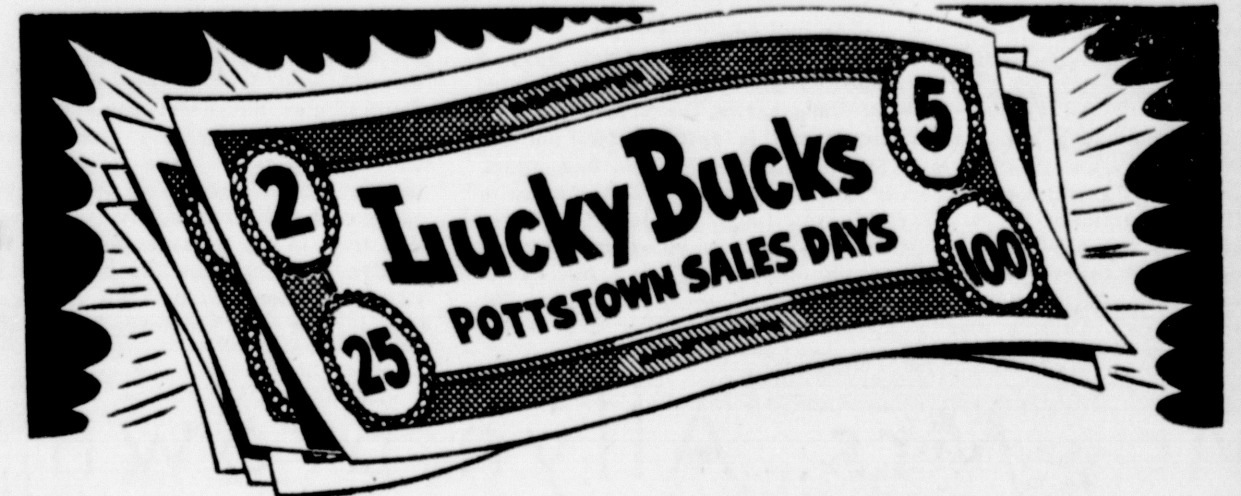

The 1 1/4-mile stretch of road will get a blacktop surface when the roadbed has been prepared. Materials will come ready-mixed from the Harlem Blacktop company nearby.

President E. G. Kriebel conducted last night's meeting.

WHAT WOMEN ARE DOING

SUMMER RECIPE FOR LIVING—Take three small boys, a hot August day, add a Summer house—and you have a contented trio. That's the Arthur S. Weitzkorn recipe for Summer living. The Weitzkorn home at Winding road is actually two houses; the family homestead plus a Summer house, set 30 feet apart. There's a flagstone path leading to the structure, which contains all the equipment necessary for family fun. The large fireplace shown in the picture above is flanked by a wood storage bin on one side, and utensil cupboards on the other. A picnic table, chairs and a charcoal broiler for those ever-lovin' steaks complete the furnishings. There's also a picturesque old willow tree which helps shade the shelter from the sun. "During this awful heat wave," Mrs. Weitzkorn explains, "the boys have taken over the Summer house for their playyard." So when guests arrive for a picnic supper they either dine surrounded by cars, trucks, balls and bats, or take to the roofed porch at one side of the house. The building was on the property when the Weitzkorns purchased their home four years ago, and they've "spent half of that time in the Summer house." In the picture above, four year old Marc waves from his jeep (left), while Mrs. Weitzkorn and Gregg, 16 months old, keep an eye on Father. He's been pressed into service as "go-power" for son Andrew's "Cadillac."

Mr., Mrs. Allyn Brown Host Alumni Class Picnic

Members of North Coventry High school class of 1942 and their families met recently for their annual picnic reunion.

The affair took place at a picnic area owned by Mr. and Mrs. C. Allyn Brown which is located near their Kenilworth home.

Mrs. John Hoy supervised games for adults and children during the afternoon's activities. Pony rides for the children were provided by Robert Brown.

A short business meeting was conducted by president, W. E. Wampler. George Zubert was elected as president for the coming year and Margaret Dunlap was chosen to serve as secretary and treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Haws of Ardmore were awarded a prize for traveling the longest distance to attend the picnic.

Jimmy Fisher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fisher was given a prize for being the oldest child of a class member present. A gift also was presented to the youngest child present, ten month old, Mark Zubert.

Light Showers Felt By Barbara Keim At Surprise Party

You won't see it in the weather report, but it showered last night at 26 East Fifth street.

It was a woman-made shower, produced by Mrs. James Wigle of the Fifth street address, for bride-to-be Barbara Keim.

The surprised guest of honor was protected from the pink and white streamer shower by a decorated white umbrella. Each of the streamers was attached to a bridal gift.

Miss Keim, daughter of Leon Keim, 123 Chestnut street, will become the bride of Joseph Alexander, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sebastian Alexander, Roversford, on Saturday, Aug. 13. The marriage will take place in St. Aloysius Catholic church.

Shower colors of pink and white were repeated on the buffet table, which was centered by a three-tiered pink and white cake, topped with a bride doll.

Guests attending were: Mrs. Charles Kelly, Mrs. John Ruyak, Mrs. William Heil, Dawn Steffy, Alice Keim, Doris Schmuck, Sue McMichael, Mrs. Adolph Hums, Eileen Bridgman, Florence Giangiacomo and Mrs. Louis Giangiacomo.

Absentee gifts were received from Hazel Frey, Jeanette Henry, Mrs. John Walleigh and Mrs. Emily Crossman.

Mrs. R. D. Gilfillan Entertains Members Of East Vincent Club

Mrs. Robert D. Gilfillan entertained members of the East Vincent Neighbors club with a porch party at her Hickory Grove road home recently.

The business session was conducted by Mrs. Harry G. Davis. It was announced at that time that a candle demonstration would take place in October.

Two poems were recited by Mrs. B. Franklin Mower: "Our Purpose in Life" and "A Little More."

Mrs. Elza Phillips then gave an account of her trip to New York with a group of Fresh Air fund children.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and co-hostess, Mrs. Davis.

The next meeting of the group will be in September at the home of Mrs. Lawrence R. High, Schuylkill road.

Those attending the affair were: Mrs. Myrtle E. Keane, Mrs. Job Yarnall, Mrs. W. Heff Wenger, Mrs. Wayne G. Hoffman, Mrs. Elza Phillips and son, Gregg; Harold Smith, Mrs. Harry J. Latshaw, Mrs. B. Franklin Mower, Mrs. Earl Howe, Mrs. Walter Scheib, Mrs. Lawrence High and Mrs. J. V. Styer.

Parched Earth Produces Flowers, Plants For Garden Club Members Competition

The lack of rain, parched earth and incessant heat hasn't stopped members of the Garden club, who continue to grow and exhibit their flowers and horticultural specimens at the group's monthly meetings.

Yesterday Garden clubbers displayed marigolds, geraniums, petunias and zinnias at the home of Mrs. William Achatz, Rosenberry road.

Following a short business meeting conducted by Mrs. Harold Binder, president, awards were given to the various arrangements and plants displayed.

In arrangements class one, marigolds in a cup and saucer, first prize was awarded to Mrs. Edwin Yarnall for her arrangement of yellow marigolds in a pale green cup and saucer.

Second prize winner was Mrs. J. Maloney, who arranged yellow marigolds in a pale cream-colored cup and saucer.

Class two, miniatures, was won by Mrs. David D. Detar, who showed red geranium blossoms in a gold pitcher on a blue-gray tray. Miniature demi-tasse cups and saucers, also in gold, were placed on either side of the arrangement.

Mrs. Santine DeGerolamo's arrangement won second prize. She showed dark purple clover blossoms in a pewter container on a black tray.

Horticulture class winners included: section one, five petunia blossoms, Mrs. George Cockfair, who displayed pure white blossoms, won first prize.

Second prize went to Mrs. Roy Hohl, who exhibited pink and white petunia blossoms.

Section two, 2, 3 or 6 zinnias, any variety. First prize went to Mrs. Raymond Russell, who showed large orange dahlia type zinnias. Second prize winner was Mrs. Carlisle Snively, for her shaded orange button zinnias.

Refreshments were served by the hostess after announcement of the next meeting at the home of Mrs. George P. Bullard, Grandview road, Sept. 9, at 2 p. m.

At this meeting the arrangement classes will include: class one, asters or zinnia; class two, a pair of arrangements for a mantle, and class three, an arrangement for vases and flowers.

Horticulture classes will include: class one, gladioli, three spikes; class two, a basket of any fruits or vegetables grown by the exhibitor, and class three, a jar of any fruit or vegetable grown and canned by the exhibitor.

CHARLESTOWN WSCS PLANS CHURCH 125TH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION

Plans for the 125th anniversary of the Charlestown Methodist church were discussed by members of the Women's Society of Christian Service during their recent meeting.

The celebration will take place some time during September.

Ethel Longacre conducted the devotional period during the session, held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Segner, Devault.

It was announced that the festival given by the youth group was a successful venture.

The hostess, with Mrs. Elwood Fisher and Mrs. Joseph Snyder, served refreshments during the social hour. No meeting is planned for August.

Rachel Huston, Ethel Longacre, Mrs. Edward Sykes, Mrs. Harvey Fisher, Mrs. Elwood Fisher, Mrs. Joseph Snyder and Mrs. Myrtle E. Keane.

CAREER GIRL - Smooth hair back, don glasses and an important expression, et voila! the career girl look. Here that smooth, uncluttered look is achieved with the help of designer Claire McCardell, who has produced this transitional Summer-to-Fall suit in beige worsted and linen. Brown saddle stitching marks the dropped shoulders and pockets, and edges the cardigan jacket's closing. Accessorizing is kept to a minimum here to emphasize this year's "line look."

COVER GIRL - Same girl, same day, completely different look. Here the model is fluffed and floating for evening. The hair is softened, she's assuming an "you great big wonderful man, here I am," look, and she's forsaken her business suit in favor of Nanty's goddess-like formal creation of pure silk pink chiffon, draped into a panniered skirt. Folds of chiffon soften the strapless bodice, and are caught at the firm molded midriff. With it she's wearing a budget king's ransom in rhinestones, and formal opera gloves.

Fashion's color chart has been turned all topsy-turvy this year. During the hottest July recorded in Pottstown for over half a century, intensive efforts have been made to sell women the hottest, sharpest, most violent colors the dye vats can turn out.

Men have adopted the soft cool pastels formerly associated with feminine Summer wardrobes.

Pardonably white, pink and pale blue are forecast as important colors for the coming Winter.

Cool pastels for Winter, hot vivid for Summer; Dame Fashion has her whimsical moments.

A gallant Pottstonian retrieved a letter for Louise Romania, 238 North Charlotte street, who dropped letters along High street. The man was sitting in his parked car when Louise casually dropped her letter and the camera recorded the gallant retriever in action.

HONESTY —

clude the weasel-faced man, who haltingly retrieved and pocketed the DeLong letter in front of Independence Hall, actually stole or opened the letter.

I followed him for two blocks before he disappeared in a taproom.

Perhaps, he just got drunk and forgot about the letter.

IF HE opened the letter, his disappointment, no doubt, was acute. All letters were filled with three blank sheets of folded copy paper—a detestable find for anyone criminally inclined.

One Philadelphia letter was recovered by an aging arthritic who audibly grunted as he slowly bent his body to pick the letter from the Sansom street sidewalk, along jewelers row.

With obvious curiosity, he studied the address on the letter, walked across the street, and mailed it.

A WEAVING Philadelphian with a red right eye, lingering long before he picked the letter from North Broad street, in front of the Academy of Fine Arts.

It took him a long time to focus his eye on the address, but when he satisfied himself that the letter must have been dropped by the intended mailer, he deposited it in the mail box, which stood conveniently, just 10 feet away.

A tall elongated man, an elderly fat woman and a teen-ager mailed the other three letters in Philadelphia.

Pottstown retrievers included a muscular man, who wore a jockey style straw hat, and a middle aged woman.

THE MUSCULAR man was sitting in his car ogling High street pedestrians when he saw the letter slip from Miss Romania's perspiring hand.

Gallantly, he leaped from his car, and whirled through the crowd to return the letter to a very grateful Miss Romania.

A hawk-eyed woman in front of the New York store saw Miss Romania drop the letter twice. She accused her of being careless and butterfingering.

She didn't realize the scientific implications of her casual carelessness.

ALTHOUGH THE RESULTS are not overwhelmingly in favor of Pottstonians, I can assure you that Philadelphians are much more dishonest than Pottstonians.

At least 40 Philadelphians passed letters before retrieving them. At least a dozen Quaker City pedestrians walked over letters.

In Pottstown only one hefty, stumbling shopper actually touched a letter with shoe leather. And it took only 15 borough shoppers to retrieve and mail the six letters.

Dogs Kill Chicks, 2 Owners Fined

Ernest Norris and Theodore Grivas, both of Douglass township, found that the killing of 14 chickens by their dogs is an expensive matter.

The chicken pullets were killed on the farm of J. Harold Yocom, Douglassville RD 1. The results will be the dogs paying with their lives and the owners paying with money.

Floyd R. Klopp, county dog law enforcement officer, said this week that the owners will pay $2 for each chicken and 10 cents for the burial of each.

Norris has already paid for half of the pullets.

Grivas must pay a fine of $5 and costs of $4 by 7:30 Monday night or face a hearing before Justice of the Peace Charles E. Templin, Douglass township. His dog was unlicensed.

LUCKY BUCKS —

Sewing Center.

"I never won anything in my life," she laughed. The money will most likely go towards a trousseau: her fiancé, Corp. Carroll Baus, 736 East Fifth street, Boyertown, is in Germany but will be discharged in three weeks.

Probably nobody covered as many miles to get and cash a Lucky Buck as did Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Griffith, Graterford.

THEY BOUGHT hot dogs in Newberry's with a $5 bill, got cigars at the Cole Tobacco shop with another $5. They drove 12 miles home and checked the Lucky Buck list in The Mercury.

When they found they had one they drove back in, exchanged it for a crisp new $10 bill. Then they drove home again. Griffith still had two more drives to make—to Bethlehem Steel, where he works, and back home again.

Compare that with Mrs. Barbara Stouch, 972 Terrace lane, who was the first winner of the day at 9:45 a. m.

Mrs. Stouch picked up her Lucky Buck at the Town toy store, right across from The Mercury. She just crossed the street and was handed a $10 bill, enough to more than pay for the toys for her children, Bobby, two-and-a-half, and David, five months. It was the first time she'd ever won anything, too.

LEWIS FLOM, 260 King street, wasn't a shopper, but he came up with a $10 winner anyway. Figures he picked up the Lucky Buck while making collections for the Holland Furnace company.

Mrs. Esther Atkinson, Kimber-ton, brought her eight-year-old twins, Bobby and Terry, to town for their music lessons. She picked up a $5 winner at Wolf's Glass and China store.

Mrs. Laureta Norcross, Elverson, was buying a ring for her daughter, Betty, who'll be 11 years old today, when she was handed a Lucky Buck worth $5. Her Lucky location was Willauer's Jewelry store.

Another $5 bill went to Anna M. Fry, Auchenbach apartments, who was shopping at Paul's Bootery. It was her first "find".

MAX HAUPTMAN of Pottstown RD 2 was buying paint for his house when he picked up a lucky dollar worth $10.

"It'll pay for the paint and leave me a couple of bucks extra," he smiled.

Business district streets were filled with people yesterday morning, all checking money.

"I just had a 50-cent sale and the woman handed me a five-dollar bill," Tony Loli, sales manager at Sears Roebuck's appliance department commented.

Mrs. Raymond Baker, 1153 High street, said: "I haven't found one yet. But I intend to keep my eyes open."

That's the way shoppers will be acting today as nearly $1000 worth of Magic Money awaits them in 84 stores.

It was a big day for members of the West End Fire company on Oct. 10, 1914. Residents of Stowe helped the group in a special dedication ceremony for the newly bought fire apparatus. The building was gayly decorated with the red, white and blue banners and topped with the American flag. The fire house faces Vine street. The side of the building is on Rice street. Across the road from the fire company was a grocery store owned and operated by J. W. Bitting. The photo was submitted by Charles Q. Flickinger, Stowe.

TODAY'S GARDEN-GRAPH

Reg. U. S. Patent Office

Weeds May Threaten Late Crops

By DEAN HALLIDAY

Weeding is especially important for a late planted crop, for weeds quickly overrun vegetable seedlings. Hoe out weeds between late crop rows while the weeds are still small. In other words, get them while they are still too young to fight back.

With slow growing crops such as late peas, carrots, beets, parsnips and others, attacking the weeds when they are young will greatly reduce weeding efforts.

Pea roots, for example, need air. Shallow cultivation, therefore, is helpful in keeping the ground aerated. Use a scuffle hoe as shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph. It will weed in an hour, though, what it would take two hours to do later on.

With the scuffle hoe one walks backward as the soil is cultivated, the hoe being pushed back and forth just under the surface of the soil to destroy weeds and maintain a dust mulch. With this hoe, as the user moves backward, the hoe surface is not turned down.

SHOULD WEEDS be put on the compost pile or left between crop rows? If the weeds have not flowered or produced seed pods, or are the types that do not root easily, such as purslane and crabgrass, it is good practice to leave the plants between the rows. This weed covering will not only act as a mulch but will help keep other weeds from germinating. Such weeds, when finally worked into the soil, will add organic matter to it.

Weeds may be put on the compost pile if they are not infested with insect pests or a plant disease.

Wrapping Trees in Burlap Helpful In Thwarting Damage From Insects

You can wrap some of your tree trunks in an old burlap bag.

The bag is one to be torn into strips for wrapping around pet trees to protect them against secondary borer attacks. Secondary borers are those insects that attack and gain entry in trees usually weakened by severe drought and searing heat of several past seasons.

F. R. Lancaster, entomologist and technical adviser of the Davey Tree Expert company, says burlap wrappings saturated with chemical protectors offer a barrier against the ruthless pests.

Trunks and limbs should be wrapped as high as you can go safely. Five or six tablespoons of wettable DDT powder or lindane, or a combination of both, in a bucketful of water make good repellents.

The poison can be applied on wrapped trunks and limbs with a paint brush or with the trusty spray gun.

Neither the wrappings nor the poisons supplant good tree care practices as the answer to the borer problem. Prevention is the best method of borer control. This means trees kept in good health and growing vigor are less likely to become victims of borer fifth columnists. Pruning, feeding, spraying against leaf eaters and adequate watering help build up trees' resistance to invasion.

Annual County Poultry Tour Planned By County Agent, Committee Named

The annual Montgomery County poultry tour supervised by the Agricultural Extension service will be held Wednesday, Aug. 17, as announced by R. G. Waltz, county agent.

The committee assisting him is Clarence Ziegler of Vernfield; Elmer Renninger, Royersford; and A. K. Rothenberger, Center Point.

The itinerary will be to assemble at the Consolidated school Harleysville, at 9 a. m.

The first stop will be the turkey farm owned and operated by Elmer H. Moyer, near Souderton. One of the points of interest on this farm will be to observe a pole barn to house turkeys. The structure is 40 feet wide and 180 feet long and will accommodate about 4000 turkeys.

THE SECOND stop will be the Enos Godshall poultry farm nearby. This farm has housing capacity for 5000 breeders and 3000 pullets. The farm also has a capacity for about 1000 turkeys.

A new house was recently erected with three stories that has a capacity for about 4000 birds. The plant also has hatching capacity for 180,000 eggs.

The third stop will be at the farm of Abram Z. Rittenhouse near Lansdale where the visitors will observe a new laying house with a capacity of 5000 birds and housing for additional capacity of 1000 birds.

The pullets are raised in confinement in the laying house and stay in the laying house during the productive years. A new house is equipped with automatic feeders, litter cleaners and a cooling room for eggs.

THE ADJOINING farm of Norman Landis is also on the schedule. The new two story laying house, 110 feet long and 48 feet wide, with a capacity of 4000 birds, will be observed. It also has all the labor saving devices found in modern laying houses.

The last stop will be at the Albert Heebner farm with their two story modern house with a capacity of 5000 birds. A special feature on this farm will be to observe a new type of nest which prevents the eggs from becoming soiled in the laying nest.

The tour will end with a box lunch at West Point park. Following the lunch, C. O. Dossin, poultry extension specialist, of Pennsylvania State university, will address the poultrymen on some of the newer practices pertaining to poultry management. All farmers are welcome to attend all or part of the tour.

Don't miss the hometown news. Take The Mercury with you on your vacation. Only 25 cents a week.

Laurel Locks Cow Has Good Record

A registered Guernsey cow, Laurel Locks Melican, owned by Donnell Marshall, Pottstown, has produced 11,368 pounds of milk and 601 pounds of fat in her last lactation.

This production represents approximately 5349 quarts of high-quality milk. This is according to the official Advanced Registry record released by the American Guernsey Cattle Club.

"Melican" was a senior four-year-old and was milked two times daily for 365 days, and met calving requirements.

Guernsey cows on official test have steadily increased production over the years. The average cow in the United States produces only about one half as much as the average purebred Guernsey on official test.

The sire of "Melican" is Laurel Locks Helois. Nine tested daughters of this bull are listed in the Performance Register of the American Guernsey Cattle Club.

This record was supervised by Pennsylvania State university.

QUINN SOCKS 2 4-PLY HOMERS

Linfield's Bob Quinn set an Appalachian league record this week by socking two grand slam homers in one game for Pulaski.

He has been with the Pulaski team for about three weeks after being shipped there from Salt Lake City in the Class C Pioneer league.

Back on familiar grounds where he did so well last season in his first year in the minors, Quinn started his hitting rampage Saturday when he belted a pair of homers in one game.

On Monday he really found the range, twice hitting balls out of the park with bases loaded. He had one other hit in that game. Bob has been playing leftfield although in high school and with the Pottstown Legion he always played either third or caught.

Linfield, York Street To See Eagles Play

Players of the Linfield Lions and York Street Hotel teams will be guests at the Philadelphia Eagles Open House at Hershey tomorrow.

A motorcade of 10 cars will transport the boys to the Eagles training camp to watch the pro gridgers engage in their annual Green-White intra-squad game. The teams will leave at 9:30 o'clock.

Pitching Features 3-1 Win

Boyertown Legion Tops Workers

Good pitching was featured last night in an exhibition game won by Boyertown Legion, 3-1, over USWA 2326 at Memorial park.

Three hurlers shared the mound job for Boyertown with starter Tom Graver receiving the win. Terry Shaner went the distance for the Pottstown team and as usual when he is on the mound his mates were unable to do much scoring.

Boyertown tallied its first run in the second inning. Ron Domin belted a single to center and took second when Bill Ellis let the ball roll by him. Domin went to third on Smith's groundout and scored as Carl Johnson was being tossed out. Ralph Borneman tallied a run in the third for the visitors after opening the inning with a single to left. He stole second and moved to third as Duke Snyder grounded out. With two down, Domin dribbled a slow grounder that first baseman Bob Freese covered but Freese's throw was wild and Borneman scored as Domin was safe.

BOYERTOWN TALLIED its only run in the sixth when Cliff Long, the first batter reliever Snyder faced, drilled a single to right. While Snyder was striking out the next two batters, Long stole second and reached third on a passed ball. On a play similar to the one that gave Boyertown its second run, Denny Schaeffer made a good throw to Snyder covering first on Sandoe's grounder, but Duke was moving fast and dropped the ball. Long scored on the play.

Boyertown's final run was the most bonafide tally of the night.

Schaeffer chopped a ball over third that Sandoe grabbed and made a hasty throw to first. His peg went past Freese and Schaeffer reached second. Larry Moyer belted a liner to left that curved away from Jim Mullen and went for a triple and an RBI.

The Workers' best threat was tipped by a nice running catch in

Huy's 5-Hitter Halts PAA, 7-0; Kenilworth Wins 2d

Jim Huy's masterful five-hit pitching led Kenilworth to its second win of the season last night, 7-0, in a Junior league game against Pottstown Athletic Association.

Kenilworth reached John "Greenie" Zelenak for 11 hits before he was relieved by Tom Jump in the fifth inning. Headed this solid socking was Huy and Barry Stahl, each with three hits, and Lee Pelicotti with a home run.

Pelicotti's long blast over the rightfielder's head to lead off the second inning, sent the visitors into a 1-0 lead. They wrapped up the win in the third frame by scoring four times. Stahl opened the uprising with a single and was safe at second on Ronnie Bell's fielder's choice.

HUY DROVE in a run with a single and Jim Zelenak batted home two more with a single to left. After Pelicotti walked, Joe Skarbeck belted a double to left-center for an RBI.

All the PAA hitting was concentrated at the top of the batting order. Leadoff man Bob Kerr had a pair of singles to open threats, but Huy was tough with men on base as he struckout 14 batters.

OLD TIMERS PLAY WORKERS

The Pottstown Oldtimers will unlimber ancient arms and legs tomorrow afternoon when they play USWA 2326 at Memorial park, 5:30 o'clock.

John Eisinger has rounded up the local baseball stars of the 30s and 40s and they will perform for the first time this year as a unit. Last year they held their own against some pretty good clubs.

Playing for the Old Timers will be Buck Roberts, Curly Ricketts, John Holoka, Joe Narietta, Merrill Mauger, Jim Egolf, Mac Shirey, Bud Stolpe, Frank Waresak, Joe Cocci, Nick Colassanti, Dick Kroh, Ken Shellenberger and Eisinger.

After Shaner led off with a single off Graver, Dick Hurter followed with his second hit, a ground single to left. Mike Lunn sacrificed both runners ahead but Cubi Ricketts was the second out as Domin raced into centerfield to grab his half-cut lopper.

TOM DRAUSCHAK then pulled a long liner to left that Borneman hauled in near the line for the third out.

Worker shortstop Hurter played flawless ball at short handling several hard chances which helped hold the Boyertown hit total down to five.

Johnny Weiss gave up only one hit in two innings for the Boyers and Long's hit was the only one off Snyder in his two innings on the hill.

Methodists Defeat St. Peter's, 7-1, as Fries Gives 3 Hits

Coventryville Methodist became the third Sunday School league team to win a playoff berth last night by beating St. Peter's Lutheran, 7-1.

The Methodists join First Baptist and Trinity Reformed in the playoff picture with Baptist-Bethel and Emmanuel Lutheran still in the running for the fourth spot.

Frank Fries spun a three-hitter for the winners and didn't lose his shutout until the sixth inning when Sam Daub clouted a triple with two out to drive in Leidy Gaugler who had reached base on an error.

A pair of triples gave Coventryville its first tally in the third. After George Freese laced a long drive to left for three bases, Irv Hartz belted one to right-center for a run. Hartz was nipped off third as Gaugler made a fine cut-off throw.

WITH ONE DOWN in the second inning, Coventry's Bud Betcher and Larry Bailey belted singles. An error by Dick Bechtel at third allowed Betcher to score.

The victors really cut loose in the sixth, scoring five times after there were two men out. Bailey started things off with a single and after Fries singled, Wayne Fulmer drove in both runners with another hit. Paul Miller walked and Hartz was safe on an error, another run scoring.

After starting pitcher Dale Neiman walked Freese to force in a run, he was replaced by Bob Spacht who walked Betcher to force in the final run.

Thomson Scores 65 In Tam O'Shanter

CHICAGO, Aug. 5 (P)—Peter Thomson, 25, reigning British Open champion from Melbourne, Australia, ripped seven strokes off Tam O'Shanter's par for a 65 and a half-way lead of two strokes in the $25,000 All-American Golf tourney today.

Thomson, who opened with a 71 yesterday, fashioned a sizzling 31-34 round against Tam's 36-36: 72 as he just missed the $10,000 reward for breaking the course record of 63.

Winner of the British Open title this year and last, Thomson had eight birds and two one-over-par holes in his sparkling round over the parched course which was aided greatly by a morning rainfall.

Two strokes behind Thomson at the 36-hole mark in the quest for $3420 first prize were 1955 national PGA champion Doug Ford and Al Mengert, runnerup in the 1952 national amateur, each with 138. Ford and Mengert each banded his second straight 69.

11 Past Sanatoga Speedway Winners Head 16th Stock Car Racing Card

Eleven past winners and more than a score other drivers will roll through seven events of competition tomorrow night at 8:30 o'clock on the fifth-mile, asphalt track at Sanatoga speedway, near here.

Racing will be sanctioned by the All Stars Stock Car racing club, which has held 15 past meets at the oval. Three heat races, two semifinals and a consolation run will thin the field to the 16 fastest cars for the 30-lap feature. A total of nearly 100 laps of competition is scheduled.

Co-favorites will be Tom Sheetz, Pottstown, and Norman Kidd, Bridgeport. Sheetz had a two-race win skein interrupted last week when the sportsman's cars gave way to late model races on each of George Marshman's three tracks. Kidd will be driving a newly constructed Wilbur Rock racing stock and is expected to give the machine a skilled ride.

OTHER STRONG entries include the veterans Reds Leshar, Reading, and Jim Ryan, Pottstown, both high on the current ASCRC point list; and past winners Charley Kelly, Monk Kellar and Buck Grandy, Pottstown; Warren Mutter and Bill Ellis, Boyertown; Dick Rodenberger, Trumbauersville; Don Allison, Norristown, and George Sleight, Easton.

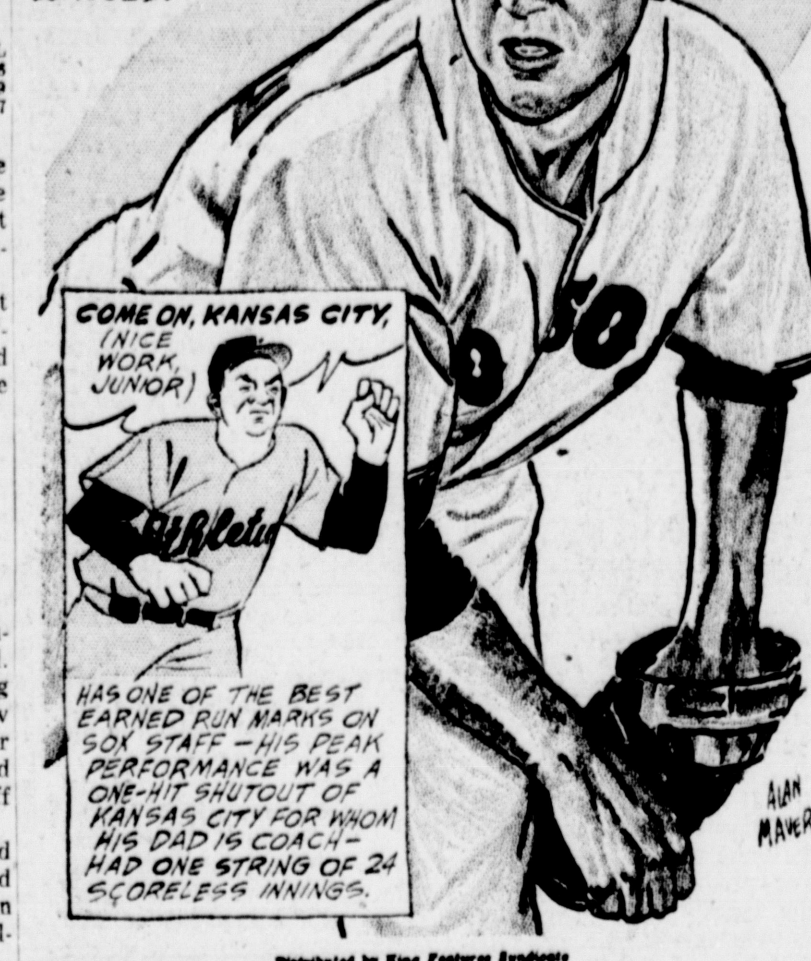

Grandy, Mutter and Sleight have been the only drivers to carry off more than one feature victory in 15 past race meets at the oval. Mutter holds the current record for the 30-lap windup distance, having registered a crisp 7:42.5-minute clocking July 9. The record was broken three times during the current season.

Snider Takes Homer Lead With Pair As Cubs Win, 10-8, Banks Hits 37th

CHICAGO, Aug. 5 (P)—The Chicago Cubs today set back the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers, 10-8, with both teams blasting a total of 29 hits, including seven home runs. It was Chicago's fourth win over Brooklyn in 15 games.

Duke Snider of the Dodgers, got two home runs to lead the major league home run race with 38. Ernie Banks, the Cub shortstop who was tied with Snider before the game at 36 circuit blows each, got one.

CARDINALETTS LOSE OPENER IN STATE TOURNEY

The Pottstown Cardinalettes lost their opening game in the girls softball state championships at Williamsport last night, dropping a 5-1 decision to the defending titlists, the Allentown Rockettes.

The loss sinks Pottstown into the losers' bracket and its next game will be this afternoon, 1:30 o'clock against either Williamsport or Lancaster.

Ruth "Diz" Leinbach hurled for Pottstown and allowed seven hits including a home run by her mound opponent, Dolores Seigfried.

Jane Yergye was the hitting star for the Cardinalettes as she collected two singles and a double for three of the team's five safeties.

IT WAS HER double in the fifth inning that drove in the Cards only run. A walk to Mary Jane Delp, and an error on Miss Leinbach's grounder placed runners on second and third. Miss Yergye then belted her double to drive in Mary Jane, although Ruth held up at third and was eventually stranded.

Either Irma Keyes or Miss Delp will hurl today's game.

Knee-Hi Skipper Sketches

ORDERS FROM THE BOSS—Knee-Hi league director Henry Faust (right) has a pre-game chat with the Linfield Lions coaching staff as he rests his hand on manager Linford Faust's shoulder. Seated next to Faust is Billy Fedyk and Johnny Zubert.

(This is the third in a series of eight articles about the managers and coaches of the Knee-Hi league. These are the men who spend their evenings developing Pottstown's young baseball talent.)

Linford Faust manages the Linfield Lions team in the Knee-Hi league, and he is the first to admit community support is of prime importance in the successful operation of his club.

This is the Lions first year in the Knee-Hi league although they entered a team for several seasons in the Recreation commission's Junior loop.

The coaches working with Faust are Billy Fedyk, of Spring City, and Johnny Zubert, who also helps Larry Baronoff with the Junior team.

Although it costs several hundred dollars a season to support a club, the small community of Linfield backs its boys to the hilt.

"We have a great following and the parents and friends are always eager to supply us with transportation," Faust says.

HE STARTED WORKING with

Stofko (right) has a pre-game chat with the Linfield Lions coaching staff as he rests his hand on manager Linford Faust's shoulder. Seated next to Faust is Billy Fedyk and Johnny Zubert.

As an "unemployed" third baseman he offered his baseball experience to the Lions and now teaches the little fellows the diamond facts he has picked up during his long career as a player.

His son Billy, 8, is on the team but not quite ready for competition. Helping Faust when he can—if the Juniors have a night off—is Zubert who has been coaching in the Lions organization for three years.

In his days as a player he pitched in Pottstown for the Jednoda Lodge and also with St. Peter's in the City Suburban league.

Zubert, who is a graduate of North Coventry High, tutors his 15-year-old son, Leonard, who is an outfielder on the Linfield Junior team.

The Linfield Lions have set a Knee-Hi league precedent by sponsoring a team despite the disadvantage of transporting their players some distance. Good neighbors are always welcome.

ENNIS HITS 23D AS PHILLIES BEAT CARDINALS, 7-4

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 5.—The Philadelphia Phillies took advantage of four walks and an error to score three decisive runs in the eighth inning tonight and defeat the St. Louis Cardinals in the opener of a three-game series, 7-4.

Benefiting from an earlier miscue, too, the Phillies scored another tainted tally in the contest in which Del Ennis rapped his 23rd homer and Bobby Morgan his ninth for the victors, who outlived St. Louis, 11-8.

Bob Miller, third of four Philadelphia pitchers, gained the victory while Larry Jackson, second of five Redbird hurlers, was charged with the loss after taking over from starter Luis Arroyo and having the advantage of a three-run sixth that momentarily gave the Cardinals a 4-2 edge.

Berra's 200th HR Earns 3-0 Win

Yanks Tie for Lead

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Yogi Berra's 200th career home run boosted the New York Yankees into a virtual three-way tie for first place in the nip-and-tuck American League race tonight with a 3-0 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

The big belt, Berra's 19th of the season, came with two men on base in the fourth inning and jumped the Yanks up from third place into a neck and neck standing with Chicago and Cleveland, both losers tonight.

Chicago, beaten by Baltimore 2-1, still claims the top spot, but only by two percentage points over New York and Cleveland, defeated 7-5 at Washington.

Cleveland's defeat, coupled with the Chicago White Sox's 2-1 setback by Baltimore and New York's 3-0 triumph over Detroit, left Chicago only two percentage points ahead of Cleveland and the Yankees.

Maglie was blasted for six hits and left with none out in the third inning as Vice President Nixon, Secretary of State Dulles and Attorney General Brownell watched with 9,156 other fans.

New Hanover Beats

Sanatoga Cruisers

The New Hanover Cardinals scored the winning run in the last half of the sixth inning with two men out to beat the Sanatoga Cruisers last night, 5-4, in the Montgomery Berks Junior Baseball league.

Winning pitcher Bill Romig gave up five hits while his mates backed him with 10 including a double by Doug Clemens.

Terwilliger Beated

As Giants Half Cincy

CINCINNATI, Aug. 5.—The New York Giants scored five clusters of three tonight to beat the Cincinnati Redlegs 12-9 but the Giants lost another second baseman, Wayne Terwilliger, at least temporarily. Terwilliger was beated by Johnny Klippstein's fast ball in the second inning.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

PIERRE VAILLARD tells an enchanting tale about a young Parisian who was wheeling his baby son's carriage through the Bois. Sonny was howling with rage. The Parisian kept repeating softly, "Control yourself, Bernard. Just be calm, Bernard."

A child psychologist watched the scene approvingly, and tapped the Parisian on the shoulder. "Congratulations, monsieur," he said warmly, "for keeping your temper so admirably. You know how to handle the little fellow. Gently does it! So he's named Bernard, eh?" "Not at all," corrected the Parisian. "He's named Andre. I'm Bernard."

The professor cast a kindly glance at the big lug in the last row (he happened to be the variety fullback) and said, "Here's an easy one for you. Name three characters in Malory's 'Morte d'Arthur.' The big back pondered deeply and came up with, 'Well, first of all, there was old Mort himself.'"

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:
 AXYDLBAAXR is LONGFELLOW
 One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Davey Williams Quitting Baseball

ROCHESTER, Minn., Aug. 5.—Davey Williams, second base-ly to the 1934 champion New York Giants, is quitting baseball because of a back ailment.

Doctors at the Mayo clinic told the 26-year-old Texan he was suffering from spinal arthritis and possibly a slipped disc. Williams had come to the clinic Tuesday for a series of examinations. He had been on and off the bench since late June.

 "It came as quite a shock after spending all my life in baseball, to have a group of doctors tell me I was all through," said Williams. "I don't have the faintest idea about the future."

TWILIGHT THIEF GETS 20 YEARS IN EASTERN PEN

Willis Franklin Guiles, 47, who was involved in two local burglaries and a sex offense in Pottstown, was sentenced to an 8 to 20 year prison term in Berks county court.

Known as the "twilight burglar" who once "went over the wall" of the Montgomery County prison, Guiles stole more than $2000 worth of jewelry and cash here.

Judge H. Robert Mays Thursday sentenced him to Eastern Penitentiary, starting with the expiration of the seven years he must yet serve on a previous charge.

Frank Randejko, 39, convicted as his accomplice, was also sentenced. Judge Mays noted that lighter sentence against him he imposed since he was not involved in as many offenses. Guiles was arrested in Reading, January, 1955, following 120 burglaries.

SENTENCE OF Guiles was suspended on separate charges of burglary and larceny. They were brought by Cpl. Elwood Krause of the State police.

Detective John Feltnan brought about the sentence against Randejko because of the possession of burglary tools. His sentence will start with the date of his commitment to the Berks county prison, pending the outcome of his trial and subsequent appeals filed by his attorney, Fred I. Noch.

Feltnan and Krause told the court that Guiles has been "extremely co-operative" since his arrest.

The police found $800 worth of loot in his possession at his arrest in January. Feltnan said later through information provided to police loot valued at $20,000 was recovered.

ADMITTING TO the court that he served "quite a bit of time" in prison, Guiles later estimated the length at 20 years. He said he had been sentenced to Montgomery County prison before and later escaped. He had been released from prison about two and a half years before his latest arrest.

The minimum sentence for Guiles actually is 15 years, noted Judge Mays, since he must still serve seven years on a previous sentence. Detainers have been lodged against both men by Lehigh county authorities. Guiles has entered a plea of guilty to the charges, and Randejko has not yet been tried there.

Guiles looted the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Krause, 1007 Rambley avenue and Mr. and Mrs. C. Francis Griffith, 1004 Bellevue avenue. The Krause jewelry had an estimated value of $1501. A value of $325.50 was placed on the Griffiths' jewelry.

IN FEBRUARY, 1947, Guiles had been arrested by Pottstown Police on a morals charge involving a six-year-old boy. He was convicted in Montgomery County court, but asked for a new trial. As he awaited action on his appeal, he climbed to the roof of the county prison and dropped over the wall into the front lawn. His escape was made at 1:30 p. m., May 30, 1947.

Ten days later he was recaptured in Reading and on Oct. 17, 1947, was sentenced by Judge William F. Dannehower to serve 4 to 8 years on the morals charge.

Given the nickname, "twilight burglar," Guiles usually committed his thefts between the hours of 5 and 9 p. m.

HE WOULD telephone the homes he intended to rob and if he didn't get an answer he would assume that no one was home. On other occasions he entered darkened homes.

Authorities from Berks county said that Guiles and Randejko will be moved "separately" to the Eastern penitentiary next week. This is being done, since the one-time friends are now enemies.

State evidence was turned over by Guiles against Randejko, when the latter stood trial. Guiles said from the witness stand he was giving the testimony because Randejko tried to involve him in the 1953 unsolved murder of Reading school girl, Dorothy Schlappig.

Local Man Arrested On Threats to Babysitter

A Pottstown man was arrested last night for threatening to do bodily harm to a girl who was baby-sitting for her mother.

The man, Jesse Lawhorn, 526 Chestnut street, will have a hearing tonight before Seventh ward Justice of the Peace Earl R. Strange, for threatening to harm Alma Otter, 346 Beech street.

The girl's mother, Mrs. Gladys Sharaka, swore out the warrant.

Lawhorn was released on $25 bail.

A Public Relations Need

Visitors Find Many Scenes, But Not on Souvenir Cards

Visitors to Pottstown don't have to look far to find interesting scenes, but they have to look sharp to find picture postcards of those scenes.

They won't find such cards at the railroad station, the airport, the YMCA or most hotels in town.

It takes some asking around to find the hiding places of these picture cards. Some visitors would be tempted to give up before they found them.

But not your Mercury reporter.

NO CARDS were on view at the Reading station, so the Merchants hotel seemed most likely to have them.

"No, we don't sell them," Robert Bernhardt, night clerk, said. "Don't get many calls for them on my shift."

A stationery store was on the list of stops, but only greeting cards were on view there—with verses instead of pictures.

"Try one of the drug stores," suggested the stationery clerk. Binder's or People's might have them.

SURE ENOUGH, Binder's drug store had a rack of cards. They had black-and-white scenes of High street's business section, local schools, churches and Manatoway park pool.

"Sorry, we don't have any with colored pictures," the clerk said.

People's drug store had a rack filled with colored cards, but the scenes were many years old. The pictures showed old-time automobiles cruising up and down High street, and scenes of the Junior High school when the trees there were hardly above the first floor windowsills.

In both cases the card racks were in view of the customer if he looked hard enough. They were not prominently displayed near the door, though.

AT CANNING'S drug store, a rack of cards was displayed just inside the door. They were labeled "new" and the scenes did look more recent than the others, but none were in color.

At Sheridan's news agency, the clerk said he was "sold out" of picture postcards.

"We had some that were pretty old," he said, "but they're all gone and we didn't get any newer ones in yet."

Kellogg's News agency had a rack on the counter that contained colored cards of the good-old-days type.

"WE'D LIKE to get some new ones with Kodachrome pictures," the clerk said, "but if we had them we wouldn't be able to sell those we already have."

Neither the YMCA nor the YWCA had any cards on view last night, and desk clerks couldn't remember if they were sold there.

A check with John Basco, manager of Pottstown Municipal airport, Stowe, revealed that aerial visitors to Pottstown can get maps there but not postcards.

Maurice Kresson, co-owner of the Sunset pharmacies, said both stores have picture postcards in stock and "sell quite a few."

VISITORS CAN get free picture cards at the Rosedale diner. Talmadge "Bill" Faulk, the owner, had 15,000 of them printed up five years ago, and passes them out to anyone who wants them.

The cards carry pictures of Faulk's favorite Pottstown scenes—the diner.

"It's good advertising for both the diner and the town," he commented. "A Lancaster firm sent a photographer here to take the color picture and then made the cards for me. Lots of customers use the cards and I keep stamps on hand for them."

pany, announced last night that 1500 production workers at the big steel plant would earn a reprieve from the heat today.

He explained, "We've been working six days through all this heat, and we decided to close down this one Saturday to give the men a little rest."

NEARLY 200 workers at the Sweet Orr and company left home at 2:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

A number of the 200 employees of Loomcraft Frocks incorporated left work yesterday afternoon.

Robert E. Garber, president of Firestone Local 336, United Rubber Workers (CIO) said the temperature in the fringe areas of the curing room, away from the machines was 120. He said that thermometers broke when placed in the curing room.

GARBER ADDED, "It's not a question of arguing with the company. It's just a case of too much heat too long. The boys are willing under this stuff."

"Several of the guys passed out. The curing room happens to be a very hot place and when it closes the rest of the plant has to close with it."

A company spokesman explained, "I know it's hot down there, but I'm sure it's hot all over."

"In other years, before we improved the ventilation in the curing room men have passed out, but I haven't heard that they passed out this year."

"I certainly hope that it's cooler by morning and that we can resume production. We've been working six days right along now and we need all the production we can get."

We lost about 40 percent of our production this week with the union picnic and the shutdown because of the picnic."

The Philadelphia weather bureau called the heat oppressive.

Pottstown's high of 95 was accompanied with a 45 relative humidity, with a 45 relative humidity, or 10 points above the comfort mark.

An addition of temperature, when the temperature is above 80, and relative humidity, which totals more than 130 is considered uncomfortable.

SUCCESSOR IN DOUBT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson said today "I haven't talked to any one man" about a successor to Harold E. Talbott as secretary of the Air Force.

'Crazy Hat Show' Prizes Awarded To 54 Children at 3 Playgrounds

Additional results on the "crazy hat show" contests, which were conducted this week on local playgrounds in connection with a parents picnic supper, were announced yesterday.

Winners at the Franklin playground were: Michael Adamski, Lynn Hurter, Billie Neyses, most original; JoAnn Carelli, Martha Yonkovich, Jane Freese, most beautiful; Judy Thomas, Janet Neiffer, Patricia Herb, most comical; Kevin McDonough, Karen Cox, Billie Neyses, tallest hat and Carole Groom, Cherry Nagel, Jane Keller, largest hat.

LIFEGUARDS —

official duties because of illness. Presumably, the park could be reopened to swimmers today if the commissioners could find lifeguards soon enough.

The action taken yesterday by the Harrisburg office of the Health department followed a series of tests at the Green Lane park by engineers of the Philadelphia district office.

EARLIER THIS week, the tests were completed and a full report was mailed to the Harrisburg office.

Mason told The Mercury that the permit mailed yesterday "lists special conditions that must be adhered to."

For one thing, he said, more adequate lifeguard protection must be provided to supplement the present "guard" system.

(At present, fully clothed guards patrol the water's edge and get their instructions across to swimmers by blowing whistles.)

THE PERMIT also orders that toilet facilities be better spaced and that more signs pointing to the facilities be erected.

"There are no major special conditions that we would call for," Mason said.

Engineers' reports to the Harrisburg office also showed that "the water was free of any injurious matter," Mason said, so no chlorination process—that might take a long time to install—is needed.

The department's action should come as a pleasant relief to the thousands of Pottstown area families who make the park a regular weekend swimming and picnicking site.

THE POPULAR spot was closed the past June when a 14-year-old girl drowned—the fifth drowning at the park since it opened in 1940.

The Mercury pointed out that the swimming area, though patrolled by guards, was not under the protection of lifeguards.

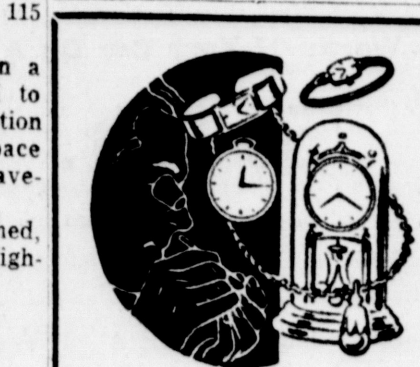

Further investigation brought out that there were no lifeguards because the State Health department forbids the hiring of lifeguards unless a swimming area has been authorized by the State.

To become authorized, a swimming area has to be inspected and tested by the State. If conditions are satisfactory, a permit is issued.

INVESTIGATION FURTHER uncovered that though the park had been in operation for 15 years, the county commissioners had never applied for a permit.

The state then said, following the June drowning, that the park was being operated illegally.

The commissioners closed it to swimming and applied to the State for a permit.

Little Girl 'Caught' Trying for Free Swim

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 5 (AP)—Little Jeanette Sarbo, age 5, tried to enter a swimming pool through the exit.

Six men and one irate mother later, Jeanette's head was freed from the bars of a locked turnstile. The girl's mother, Mrs. A. W. Sarbo, said Jeanette wasn't allowed to go near the pool because she's too young.

Jeanette said meekly, "I'm not going to do it no more."

Obituaries

JULIA P. (GARTLEY) PRIZER, 86, of POTTSTOWN RD 2, East Nantmeal township, died yesterday at 7:45 a. m. at Memorial hospital. She was admitted to the hospital Thursday for the second time, having spent a week there in July. She was the wife of Frank E. Prizer whom she married in 1888. She was born on Warwick Furnace farm in Warwick township, daughter of the late Samuel and Elizabeth Gartley.

Her father's mother was a granddaughter of John Potts, founder of Pottstown.

She was a member of East Nantmeal Methodist church. Besides her husband, she leaves two granddaughters: Madeline, wife of F. F. Inners, Red Lion, York county; and Mary, wife of Clair McAfee Sr., at home; four great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be from the White Memorial home, Parkerford, Tuesday at 2 p. m. with interment in Mt. Zion cemetery. The Rev. Richard Hohl, pastor of East Nantmeal Methodist church, will officiate.

ANNIE E. KRANTOVIS, PRINCE-TON ROAD, SANATOGA, died at home at 9:45 p. m. yesterday. She was about 70 years old.

She was born in Czechoslovakia, daughter of the late John and Mary Sabo. She came to this country 50 years ago and resided in the Pottstown area ever since.

She was the widow of the late George Krantovis, who died in 1944. She leaves one son, George, with whom she lived; one daughter, Mrs. Helen Dewald, same address; and one grandchild. She was the last of her immediate family.

Funeral services will be conducted from the Fleischmann Funeral home, 726 High street, Tuesday at 10 a. m. with interment in Edgewood cemetery.

Services for MRS. HELEN B. GREEN, 32 HEMLOCK ROW, will be on Tuesday at 1 o'clock from the House of God, Glasgow street, Stowe.

Officiating will be the Rev. Harvey Shivers, pastor of Bethel Baptist church.

Interment will be in St. Michael's cemetery, Birdsboro.

Board May Hire Several Teachers

Several teachers may be hired, to fill out faculties for opening of schools this Fall, at a meeting of the Pottstown school board at 8 p. m. Monday at Franklin school.

H. Bert Shaw, board president, also said that directors will probably make plans to take bids on the addition to the Lincoln Elementary school. Plans for the construction have been approved by the State Department of Public Instruction, he said.

Harvard E. Fosnocht, new superintendent of Pottstown public schools, will arrive back in town tomorrow after attending a State conference of school superintendents at Pennsylvania State university.

"Miss Smith and the Visiting Nurses have done a wonderful job getting this approved for us," Harrison said. "They should get all the credit."

The State, besides providing the doctor and nurse services, will also pay for any medicines needed.

A similar health center was established at Hildale when that east end housing project, now razed, was populated.

Township Officers Stress Ordinance At Board Meeting

The necessity of abiding by the East Pikeland township building ordinance adopted the past May 24 was stressed at the meeting of the Board of supervisors held at the school the past week. All members of the board were present.

Regardless of the wide publicity and legal notices regarding the ordinance several cases have developed where construction has been started without proper permit.

At the meeting it was again emphasized that the ordinance will be enforced and that any construction started since May 24 must comply or legal action will be taken. Lester Hughes, building inspector, must be notified and a permit must be secured before construction is started.

During the session pending approval was given John Tatem for a building development just off the Schuylkill road. The approval of the township's supervisors is subject to the approval of the county planning commission which must be secured.

Approval was given to Howard Pennypacker for the construction of a road on his ground just off Seven Stars road. The resurfacing of a part of the roads in the township during this month was temporarily tabled until next month.

John Gotwals, township police, submitted his monthly report.
